Village upheld on Viator rule

Housing project plans temporarily halted.

"I'm glad it's all over," said Fred Kann.

by BILL HILL

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled Tuesday the Village of Arlington Heights' refusal to rezone property adjacent to St. Viator High School for a low-and moderate-income housing project was not racially discriminatory.

The case, however, will go back to the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to determine whether the village has violated the Fair Housing Act of 1968.

The Metropolitan Housing Development Corp. has proposed the low- and moderate-incomt Lincoln Green housing project for a 15-acre site at Euclid Avenue and Drury Lane.

The MHDC, however, failed to show that discriminatory intent was a motivating factor in the village's refusal in 1971 to rezone the site, the decision, written by Justice Lewis F. Powell, said.

"But the statutory question of whether the rezoning decision violated the Fair Housing Act was not decided by the Court of Appeals and should be considered on remand," the ruling said.

THE TWO-PART decision left officials of both the village and MHDC optimistic.

"I'm not very worried about it being remanded to the appeals court. It's my feeling that the kind of evidence passed upon by the Supreme Court will be the same and produce the same end result," Village Pres. James Ryan said.

"I'm very pleased. It justifies the position we took all the time," said Jack M. Siegel, attorney for the village.

"We're not at all disappointed. We are optimistic we will go back now and win the case on the basis that the village has violated the Fair Housing Act," said Salvatore Ferrera, MHDC executive director. "I think you can overwhelmingly conclude discrimination from the village's peculiar action in this case," he said.

Siegel insisted there are no racial overtones in the case.

"I don't know how they could argue the village has violated the fair housing laws. They didn't specifically raise any such violations. They didn't argue that at all. It was raised by a question from Justice Potter Stewart, just as an afterthought. I'm sorry it has clouded things now," he said.

THE VILLAGE HAS never received a complaint of anyone being denied housing in the village or of discrimination by a developer or apartment manager in Arlington Heights, he said.

"I think that what the Supreme Court is concerned about, as I understood the questioning, is that the appeals court should have dealt with the statutory (Fair Housing Act) questions first. Of course, Chief Justice Warren Burger came right out and said they (the appeals court) must have decided in favor of the village on the statutory questions before they went on to the constitutional arguments," Siegel said.

Willis Caruso, MHDC attorney stressed constitutional arguments rather than statutory questions, Siegel said.

Caruso disagreed. "We've always argued it was a violation of the Fair Housing Act. We didn't stress the constitutional argument. We have always argued them equally. At least that Beverly Forgione would have moved.

Thomasine Peter, "I'm happy."

Decision seen as a victory

Arlington Heights residents living near the site of the proposed Lincoln Green housing project, reacted to Tuesday's U. S. Supreme Court decision as a personal victory.

"We probably would have moved if the project had gone through," said Beverly Forgione, 1307 E. Euclid Ave. "My neighbors who could afford it probably would have moved, too. But I don't really think anyone could have afforded not to move."

Her reaction to the Supreme Court's reversal of a 1975 U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals decision labeling as unconstitutional the village's refusal to rezone the lot for low- and moderate-income housing was not typical.

MOST RESIDENTS interviewed by The Herald were not planning to sell their homes, mostly because of the cost of moving.

And even though the case was sent back to the appellate court for a decision on whether the zoning violates the Fair Housing Act, neighbors are confident the project will never be built.

"I'm just glad it's over with and hope it really is over with," said Ford Kann, 612 N. Drury Ln. "But if the decision had gone the other way, as old as I am I'd just have stayed on.

"That land wasn't the right place to build it anyway," the 80-year-old retired resident said. "How can they build low-income housing there when the lots sell for $20,000 each?"

HE SAID OVER THE years many of his neighbors moved in anticipation of an unfavorable court decision. "Quite a few along here have sold and I'll tell you why. Most of those people (in low- and moderate-income units) don't take care of their property and it definitely would have affected property values here."

Betty Moreno and her family at 1221 E. Euclid Ave. also planned to stay.

"I'm not against low-income housing. I just didn't particularly want it across the street from me," she said. "But we wouldn't have moved no matter which way it went."

Dorothy Hemnes, 511 N. Derbyshire Ave., agreed. "We wouldn't have sold our house because of it. I hope the land will remain a vacant lot."

Thomasine Peter, 624 N. Drury Ln., wasn't as pessimistic as some of her neighbors about what would happen to the neighborhood if Lincoln Green is built.

"It might have been OK and it might not have been," Mrs. Peter said. "You can't assume, as many do, that the project would have been a poor one."

Army caters to Stennis' transportation needs

by JOHN MILNE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army provided a car Tuesday so Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, could get to the hearing on Jimmy Carteer's nomination of Harold Brown as secretary of defense.

Stennis saved himself a $2.20 cab fare from his home to Capitol Hill — $3.20, if he called the taxicab and told the driver not to stop for other passengers.

An Army official said Stennis, a usually pro-Pentagon senator whose committee oversees the Defense Dept., has gotten five rides to work since last Wednesday, when Washington was first hit by a series of snowstorms.

"A STAFF MEMBER from Sen. Stennis' office asked for assistance from the Army, and they provided him a car during the bad weather period. The staffer said it was hard to get a taxi, he's an old man and you don't know who the driver will be," the official said.

Stennis is the only senator receiving such treatment and his office calls each time it wants a car. "They're not providing transportation for any one else," he added.

Asked why, the official said, "Well, yesterday, it was requested so he could get to the hearings in a timely fashion." Washington traffic was backed up Monday by ice-slick streets.

The Army official said a December, 1974, memo from the secretary of the Army allows his chief lobbyist to provide Army transportation to Pentagon officials and others in emergencies or to ensure personal security.

ON TUESDAY morning, the olive drab Army staff car double-parked in front of the senator's house and the driver went to the door, helped the 76-year-old Stennis negotiate through an accumulation of snow and ice.

Stennis has used government transportation a number of times, which, as chairman of a congressional committee, the law permits him to request.

An Air Force spokesman said between March, 1975, and May, 1976, Stennis made 14 trips within the United States on executive-type jets operated by the Air Force's 89th Military Airlift Wing.

Most of these were to his home state, in addition to the 40 trips home a year that Congress allows each member.

The senator could not immediately be reached for comment because he was chairing hearings on Brown's nomination.

Monarch cruise ship stalls, 'passengers have a ball'

MIAMI (UPI) — The Monarch Star, a cruise liner bound for Haiti on a sunny midwinter holiday faced an engine failure off the coast of Cuba and was forced to put its 368 passengers into small boats Tuesday for transfer to a sister ship.

But aboard the 617-foot Monarch Sun there was little letup in gaiety among passengers happy to escape frigid temperatures plaguing the United States.

"There was no problem with the generators and there was no interruption of services," a Monarch company spokesman said. "We opened the bars as soon as it happened and the passengers had a ball."

The sister ship, the Monarch Sun was en route to San Juan, P.R., when it learned the Monarch Star had suffered a drive pump failure in its steam turbine engines Monday night. The Star found itself adrift in the Old Bahama Channel about 17 miles off the Cuban coast.

THE SUN changed course, reached the Star about noon and began transferring passengers in smaller boats.

With the 368 passengers from the Star aboard, the Sun sailed for Port Au Prince, Haiti. It was expected to arrive Wednesday morning.

The Coast Guard said the seagoing tugboat Curb from Key West was en route to the Star. The tug was expected to arrive about noon Wednesday and tow the ship back to the Port of Miami for engine repairs.

The Coast Guard said the passengers and crewmen aboard the Star never were in danger as a result of the engine failure and a Monarch official said the passengers suffered no inconvenience.

A MONARCH spokesman said both the Sun and Star left the Port of Miami last Sunday — the Sun on a seven-day cruise to San Juan and the Star on a 14-day cruise to Port Au Prince.

Monarch said the Sun's 431 original passengers would be given the option of making the 14-day Haiti trip at no extra charge, or would be flown back to Miami at no expense and given a full cash refund on their trip.

The Star's passengers were given the option of a free flight back to Miami and a full refund or of continuing the Haiti trip and getting a $100 credit at the ship's bars and shops.

The Star recently was purchased by Monarch from Holland-American Lines and was launched Dec. 8 after a dry dock refitting.

A Monarch official said the Star would depart Sunday, after engine repairs, on a seven-day cruise to San Juan.

Court order stops annexation attempt

A court order issued Tuesday has put the skids — at least temporarily — on an annexation drive by Wheeling and Prospect Heights for 40 acres at Wheeling and Willow roads. Both municipalities have taken steps to incorporate the property, owned by Arthur Liebling of Chicago. Prospect Heights requested and received a preliminary injunction against Wheeling after learning Jan. 3 that the Wheeling Village Board planned to annex the land. Prospect Heights officials maintain Wheeling cannot legally annex the Liebling property because it touches the land only on its northeast corner, while Prospect Heights surrounds the land on four sides. Wheeling had annexed the site in 1971, but the Illinois Appellate Court invalidated the annexation in September. Wheeling has appealed the decision to the Illinois Supreme Court.

Man held in attack of officer

Hoffman Estates police Tuesday charged an 18-year-old village man with aggravated battery, simple battery and obstructing a police officer after he allegedly put his finger into a patrolman's eye and kicked the officer in the head. Police charged Robert Buchholz, 141 Flagstaff Ln., with battery, aggravated battery and resisting arrest after he allegedly attacked Patrolman Paul Richardson at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Hoffman Estates police lockup, where he was being processed following a traffic stop in the village. Buchholz allegedly refused to follow a patrolman to the police station and was arrested. Hoffman Estates firefighters rushed Richardson to Northwest Community Hospital, Arlington Heights, where the patrolman was treated and released Tuesday night.

French court frees Palestinian terrorist

by RAFAELA SEPPALA

PARIS (UPI) — A French court rejected arrest warrants from West Germany and Israel Tuesday and freed Palestinian terrorist leader Abu Daoud. Israel recalled its ambassador in protest and the United States expressed "dismay" at his release.

Daoud, the suspected mastermind of the 1972 Black September massacre that killed 17 persons at the Munich Olympics, packed his bags in prison and left for Algeria two-and-one-half hours after the surprising court hearing.

In Damascus, Syria, the Palestine Liberation Organization praised France as "a friend of the Palestinians."

Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon bitterly protested France's "shameful surrender to the pressures of Arab governments and the threats of the terrorist organizations."

THE GOVERNMENT recalled its ambassador from Paris for consultations and ordered France's ambassador in Tel Aviv to appear Wednesday for "a strong protest."

The West German Justice Ministry said Daoud's release was a defeat for "the fight against international terrorism." But officials in Bonn said privately they were relieved the PLO leader was freed because it avoided any chance of reprisal attacks by Palestinian extremists.

In Washington, the State Dept. said, "Our reaction is one of dismay, dismay that through legal technicalities neither West German nor Israeli courts will be able to interrogate this man about the brutal and revolting murder of the athletes in Munich."

On arrival in Algiers Tuesday night, Daoud was hailed by high-ranking officials from the Algerian Foreign Ministry and Al Fatah, the largest PLO guerrilla group.

In a brief statement, Daoud said his arrest was the result of a tip by Israeli intelligence. He complained he was detained in a jail with common criminals and said he was the victim of "a purely political affair."

IN LUXEMBOURG, senior officials of the European Common Market said they were surprised because France had supported Common Market agreements last year to bring to trial or extradite persons involved in taking hostages.

"It seems France has been able to find a loophole," one Common Market official said.

The chief of the PLO office in Paris, speaking for all Arab diplomatic missions in France, said, "We welcome the attitude of French justice."

Daoud's lawyers were less pleased. They complained police hurried him out of the cuntry so fast he did not have a chance to confer with his PLO colleagues.

Israel said Daoud planned the Black September raid and was in Munich for the Olympic village raid that resulted in the death of 11 Israeli athletes, 5 Palestinians and a West German policeman.

The Palestinian leader said in court Tuesday he is not a killer and testified he is actually an Iraqi named Houssef Raji Hanna.

ISRAELI MILITARY sources have said Daoud was born near Jerusalem and his mother confirmed his identity there last week.

Syria, Libya, Algeria and Iraq had protested Daoud's arrest, and police tightened airport security earlier Tuesday to prevent any reprisal attacks by Palestinian guerrillas. The Palestine Liberation Organization told France in a statement in Kuwait that Daoud's detention would be a "diplomatic mistake."

The court released the 39-year-old guerrilla leader in a surprise hearing four days after his arrest. French law allows 18 days for filing extradition requests.

Both West Germany and Israel asked France to detain Daoud pending formal extradition requests, but the four-judge panel decided Bonn's request was incomplete and ruled the appeal from Jerusalem out of order.

THE COURT SAID it had received no formal extradition request from West Germany and disregarded an "extradition arrest" warrant from authorities in the West German state of Bavaria.

The judges said France recognizes Israel's claim of jurisdiction for crimes committed outside Israel, but the Munich massacre occurred before that law went into effect.

"The only motive for my arrest was political," the tall, husky Palestine Liberation Organization official said in the small, stuffy courtroom. "I demand my release. I demand the protection of French justice."

Daoud, who came to Paris last week with a PLO delegation for the funeral of a slain Palestinian, claimed protection "by a kind of diplomatic immunity."

Bond asks funds split to suburbs

by STEVE BROWN

SPRINGFIELD — Ill. Dept. of Transportation Sec. Langhorne M. Bond Tuesday said he will propose to Chicago officials that suburban Cook County receive some of the $1.25 billion in frozen federal funds now earmarked for the Crosstown Expressway.

Bond's comments came after Gov. James R. Thompson named him to continue in the post he has held since 1973.

He urged the funds be used for mass transit and road improvement projects.

Bond said the U.S. Highway Act of 1976 allows money presently designated for sections of the interstate highway system to be transferred to other projects.

ILLINOIS NOW has $1.25 billion set aside for the Crosstown but former Gov. Daniel Walker had blocked the project. Thompson said he too is opposed to the highway which would provide a westside link between the Dan Ryan, Eisenhower and Stevenson expressways, roughly paralleling Cicero Avenue.

Bond and Thompson said they also still oppose a modified Crosstown route suggested by former Sec. of State Michael J. Howlett.

Any decision to spend the Crosstown funds for other projects must be approved by Chicago officials. Thompson said he has asked Bond to meet with Chicago Acting Mayor Michael Bilandic and his aides to see if a compromise plan can be reached.

"The players are different now, and I see no reason why there cannot be a compromise," Bond said.

WHILE HE DID not offer any specifics for suburban transit programs, he did rule out any expenditures for the proposed freeway system which would extend Ill. Route 53 north of its present terminus at Dundee Road and for the Elgin-O'Hare Expressway which would run through Schaumburg and just south of Elk Grove Village.

Bond suggested the funds could be shifted to the Regional Transportation Authority for the purchase of equipment, but not to subsidize operating deficits.

Thompson said a compromise agreement to spend the money might take some burden off of the state's own general road fund and provide additional revenue for other highway projects throughout Illinois.

While saying he would be willing to meet with Bilandic, Thompson said he preferred to let transportation experts work on a plan.

Smoke belches from a window of the Dryden Apartments, home for Millicent and Harry Brundage.

Fire forces elderly pair into the cold

An elderly Arlington Heights couple was left homeless Tuesday after fire did extensive damage to their first floor residence at the Dryden Apartments, 27 N. Dryden Ave. The couple Millicent and Harry Brundage, both in their 80s, were driven from the apartment into the sub-zero temperatures shortly after 11 a.m. when clothes in a hallway closet caught fire. The couple was not injured and was making arrangements to stay with a relative.

Arlington Heights Fire Chief John Hayden said the apartment and its contents sustained about $25,000 in smoke and water damage. Other apartments in the three-story brick structure were undamaged.

The cause of the fire has not been determined, but Hayden said arson is not suspected.

IN THE LAST four years there have been several fires of suspicious origin at the Dryden Apartments, which are across the street from the Arlington Market Shopping Center.

A fire at the apartments on April 29, 1973, did $100,000 damage and another Jan. 21, 1974, did $25,000 damage. There also has been a series of trash and mail box fires in recent years.

Kathy Colleran, who lives across the hall from the Brundages, said she discovered the fire after a bus driver that had brought one of her children home from nursery school said he smelled smoke.

She said she knocked on the couple's door as well as the doors of others in the building before calling the fire department. "I alerted as many as I could," Mrs. Colleran said.

She said the fire department arrived in about two to three minutes. "It seems forever when you're waiting for them, but they did get here quickly," she said.

Nightmare recurs for Brundages

by TONI GINNETTI

Little more than a half hour had passed, hardly enough time to grasp it all and yet enough time to wipe out so much.

Worse, perhaps, was the familiarity of it. Fire destroys peace as well as property when it strikes once. When it strikes twice, it destroys spirit, too.

For Harry and Millicent Brundage, the sight of firemen knocking out window glass and blackened walls was hauntingly familiar. Tuesday morning's fire at the Dryden Apartments, Arlington Heights, was the second in three years to victimize the elderly couple.

MRS. BRUNDAGE, in her 80s, had managed to maintain her composure when her family and neighbors gathered around to console her, even cracking a smile for one friend.

But when a comforting arm encircled her shoulders, tears flooded the woman's eyes.

"This is the second time we've been burned out," she said. "This is just too much for older folks to take."

The Brundages had experienced this before in January 1974 when a fire struck the Dryden Apartments.

The couple were alerted to the fire by neighbor Kathy Colleran. Her son's preschool class had been dismissed early, and the driver of the school bus was bringing young William Colleran home when he told the boy's mother "something is burning."

"IF IT HADN'T been for Kathy, I would have never known," first-floor resident Kathy Becker said. "I didn't see the smoke until I opened my door."

Residents of the fire-struck building at 27 N. Dryden Pl. had taken refuge from Tuesday's bitter cold in the living room of a vacant first floor apartment in the adjacent building at 29 N. Dryden Pl.

Fire officials spoke to the couple and when the ordeal was over, the Brundages would return to their daughter's home.

But as they watched the scene their looks mirrored the words of their neighbor, Mrs. Colleran, who had saved them.

"Such excitement we don't need."

Passengers quell TWA hijack try

LONDON (UPI) — A tall American described by officials as a "mental case" threatened to blow up a giant U.S. jet over the Atlantic with a hand grenade Tuesday but was overpowered by some of the 333 passengers and found to be unarmed, police said.

"There was definitely no question of the man carrying any weapons or trying to hijack the jet," a Scotland Yard official said. "He was a simple mental case."

The jet, Trans World Airlines New York-London flight 700, landed safely at London's Heathrow airport where the unidentiffed man was arrested by armed police waiting at the pilot's instructions. He was taken by ambulance to Heathrow's medical center and Scotland Yard refused to release his name.

"THE MAN WAS threatening to kill himself but he had no weapon with him," a British Airports Authority official said.

The dramatic confrontation over the sea was described by one of the passengers, Zaid Rifai, former Jordanian Ambassador to London who was seriously wounded in a London shooting incident several years ago.

"The man said he had a hand grenade and would remove the pin unless he was taken to Uganda," Rifai said. "The cabin crew kept him talking for a couple of hours and then he demanded to address the passengers. They gave him a dead microphone."

"An hour before we reached London he became violent and passengers were asked to help overpower him," Rifai said.

Thompson shuffles paper, people first day on job

by STEVE BROWN

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. James R. Thompson began his first working day with a horde of reporters following him from room to room in the state captiol, getting on the payroll and receiving a 'temporary parking assignment."

Complaining that the alarm clock rang too early Tuesday morning after a night of inaugural festivities, Thompson granted several brief interviews, posed for pictures and went about the task of assembling his administration.

Besides a pat first press conference in which 135 reporters crammed into a room designed for half that number — the largest news conference in captol history — Thompson said he planned to hold a staff briefing and continue work on the fiscal 1978 budget.

Thompson moved through the doors of the multiroom governor's office for the first time at 9:25 a.m.

"Where's (Victor) deGrazia's files," Thompson quipped as he moved through the office. He was referring to former Gov. Daniel Walker's top political operative and the records he kept during the Walker administration.

BUT ALL OF Walker and his staff's material had been moved from the second floor offices to make room for the new administration.

Thompson went through a packet of personnel material, noting that a former boss once told him that was the first thing a new employe should do.

"He said always find out how to get on the payroll," Thompson said.

The 40-year-old Republican, who spent Monday night in the 50-room governor's mansion, said he had no use for the housing forms that came along with other information in the packet.

The remainder of his working day was filled with telephone calls and an effort to find appointees to head various state agencies.

THOMPSON SAID Guv, his Irish setter puppy, which became a fixture of the gubernatorial campaign, seemed to enjoy his new home at the mansion.

"He was excited yesterday with all the people running around, but finally went to sleep underneath a chair and this morning he was mooching food as usual from people who came to breakfast," the governor said.

He also shrugged off some reported criticism of the inaugural ceremonies and the price tag.

"The party cost $65,000, but it all came from private contributions. I think everybody had a good time and we got a lot for our money," he said.

"I'm not going to let that dampen my spirits," Thompson said.

WHILE TUESDAY was hectic, the coming days will be busier. Today, Thompson will preside over the Illinois Senate's selection of a new president. He also will continue announcements throughout the week on new cabinet appointments.

"Right now, I just want to find my desk," Thompson said as he strolled out of the informal interview session.

GOV. JAMES THOMPSON, cup of coffee in hand, takes a look at the private office space used by former Gov. Dan Walker. Thompson said he would not use the room for his own office but would turn a former larger conference room into his official working office.

Thompson appoints four to cabinet

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. James R. Thompson chose four men — three already on the state payroll, and a major figure in the Walker administration, as his first cabinet members.

The new governor promised to make two more sets of appointments Thursday in separate press conferences here and in Chicago.

On Tuesday Thompson selected:

- Langhorne M. Bond, 39, to continue as secretary of the Illinois Dept. of Transportation.
- Cpl. Lynn E. Baird, 42, of Park Forest South, to be superintendent of the Illinois State Police.
- Robert M. Whitler, 38, to head the Illinois Dept. of Revenue.
- William J. Boys, 49, to be director of the Illinois Dept. of Personnel.

Thursday's picks were the first major appointments by Thompson since shortly after his election Nov. 2 when he selected Robert Mandville, an aide to former comptroller George Lindberg, to head the bureau of budget. Thompson also has selected a personal staff.

"THE MEN AND women I bring with me to state government will put my neck on the line and this administration has to be sure. There is no time for mistakes," Thompson said. He noted that he had taken "more than the usual amount of time" to name his cabinet.

There was no organized legislative reaction to Thompson's appointments, but there were signs that the Bond reappointment might run into trouble in Illinois Senate confirmation hearings.

"There are some who think this is really a disaster," said one state senator who preferred his name not be used.

"It is really too early to tell how much opposition might develop. I know some people were very upset," said State Sen. John Nimrod, R-Glenview.

Most lawmakers questioned privately complain that Thompson should have named a Republican to head the department, generally considered to be the source of most patronage jobs in the state.

The new governor has repeatedly stated he will ignore party labels to fill his cabinet and he hinted Tuesday more Walker aides could be appointed to the new administration.

BAIRD, A 19-YEAR state police veteran, has served four former governors. He was part of Thompson's security detail during the gubernatorial campaign.

Thompson said he will meet with legislative leaders this week to determine whether a bill boosting the salaries for his appointees can be passed. He said if the leadership indicates such a measure can get speedy action, he will designate his choices as "acting directors" so they will be eligible for the pay raise.

Bond presently makes $44,000. Baird will get $30,000; Whitler, $38,000; and Boys $35,000.

WHITLER IS the administrative vice president for the Horace Mann Educators Corp. in Springfield.

Boys said his job will be to restore credibility and professionalism to the personnel department. He promised to eliminate persons who are holding spots on the state payroll while acting as "political operatives" for government officials.

Education budget tops $924 million

The Illinois Board of Higher Education Tuesday, ignoring a call for fiscal restraint by Gov. James R. Thompson, approved a $924.2 million budget which includes tuition increases at universities and salary raises at both university and college levels. Thompson said last Wednesday the state could not afford to fund the $924.2 million figure, which is about $96 million higher than last year's budget. The budget proposal contains a 7 per cent salary increase at state universities. Nonacademic university personnel would receive a 9 per cent pay increase. The proposal also asks that tuition be increased $90 for undergraduate students and $120 for graduate students.

Lindquist abandons parental rights

The last act in one of Illinois' most sensational child abuse cases was played out in Juvenile Court in Chicago this week when Mrs. Irene Lindquist formally relinquished all parental rights to her four surviving children. Mrs. Linquist, 30, served more than three years in prison for the fatal beating of her son, Johnny, 7, in 1972. Johnny died after having been in a coma for 35 days.

Mrs. Lindquist's husband, William, was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter and still is serving a 3-to-10-year prison term. Mrs. Lindquist was paroled seven months ago and announced she wanted to regain custody of her four surviving children — two girls, 6 and 13, and two boys, 8 and 9. The state opposed her move and was prepared for a court battle to prevent Mrs. Lindquist from getting custody of the children, three of whom live with foster parents wishing to adopt them. The fourth child is being treated for emotional problems.

After a meeting with her children last week described as "warm and happy," Mrs Lindquist signed documents relinquishing her rights. The documents were presented at a Juvenile Court hearing Monday.

On TV Polls

by Ed Landwehr

TV polls on family viewing time had some strange results. For example, half the people questioned didn't know what it was nor if it existed. And half the people who knew about it didn't know what time period it covered. Also, the majority of those who understood all the details of it doubted that it improved TV in any way, but they thought it should be continued.

It makes you wonder how good polls are, and why the public is so apathetic about it all. But the public is not apathetic to TV servicing. They insist on clear, efficient TV operation. It makes up a big part of their entertainment hours. So, at Landwehr's TV & Appliances we strive to do the best maintenance job possible. # Ice Station Zero locates in suburbs?

Record-breaking cold gripped the Midwest Tuesday, and Northwest suburban residents can expect at least two more days of sub-zero temperatures.

Temperatures plummeted as low as 11 degrees below zero early Tuesday morning, tying the all-time record low for that date set in 1888.

The National Weather Service said there is little relief in sight. A slight warming trend may bring highs of zero to 10 degrees today, but no significant change is expected until Friday.

Frigid temperatures left streets littered with cars that would not start. The Chicago Motor Club reported six times the normal number of service calls Tuesday morning. Most were attributed to ignition and fuel line difficulties.

GAS AND POWER consumption reached all-time highs as the mercury dropped. Northern Illinois Gas, serving about 1.3 million customers in Northern Illinois, said it broke a record sending out 3.41 billion cubic feet of natural gas in the 24-hour period which ended at noon Tuesday.

The company said the next 24 hours may produce another record unless the cold eases.

Commonwealth Edison Co. reduced its voltage within the allowed 5 per cent limit Tuesday morning to aid utilities to the east and south of the Northern Illinois service area.

Commuters on the Chicago and North Western Ry. fared better than most Chicago commuters, with only minor train delays.

A railway spokesman said the cold can cause track separations that result in signal malfunctions. He said the railroad keeps its engines running at all times in such weather because they would be impossible to start in sub-zero temperatures.

THE REGIONAL Transportation Authority said the cold weather caused great numbers of persons to use public transportation. Calls to the RTA's travel information center were up 150 per cent, and the agency did not have enough employes to handle the demand for travel information.

The Chicago area, however, is faring well compared with other parts of the Midwest. Temperatures dropped to 35 degrees below zero in Pequot Lakes, Minn., 20 below in southern Indiana and 24 below in the Missouri Ozarks.

Sprinkler heads in the Hennepin County Government Center in Minneapolis froze and created a skating rink in a 60-foot hallway where cold air came in through an expansion joint.

The weather was blamed for 46 deaths across the Midwest and East, with Illinois counting 12 dead.

The weather has been colder in Chicago. The all-time record was set Dec. 24, 1872, but the National Weather Sercie said the last quarter of 1976 was the coldest final quarter ever recorded in Chicago.

Tuesday's below-zero temperatures caused many cars to block traffic while waiting for the tow truck.

If the frost bites, try this treatment

Hospital emergency rooms reported numerous calls and several cases of frostbite brought on by Tuesday's sub-zero temperatures.

Dr. Vincent Greico, emergency room doctor at Northwest Community Hospital, Arlington Heights, had the following advice for persons whose skin has been overexposed to cold weather.

- Use warm water to thaw the frozen skin. The water should be about body temperature. In the case of frozen fingers, soak the hand for 5 or 10 minutes. Frozen face, nose or ears can be thawed with a warm washcloth.
- Repeat the process. If redness and pain persists, or if the skin turns white with numbness, call a doctor.

"Most people don't give it a chance to see what's going to happen. They call up and say, 'It's red and it hurts.' Initially there will be pain, but that by itself is not a symptom of frostbite," Greico said.

"If the pain continues, or if the skin turns white and there's numbness and tingling, they should see a doctor," he said.

No bias in housing decision: high court

was our intention," he said.

The sale of the land from the St. Viator Clerics to MHDC is contingent on getting the parcel rezoned. The Roman Catholic order has made no decison concerning the development of the land should the sale to MHDC be defaulted, Rev. Kenneth Morris said.

"WE HAVEN'T DONE any planning in that regard. We're still waiting to hear what's going to happen," he said.

The Supreme Court's decision in the 5-year-old case overturns a ruling by the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals from June 1975 and is considered to have national impact. It holds that local zoning laws are not unconstitutional soley because they may tend to keep minorities and low-income groups out of a community.

"Proof of a racially discriminatory intent or purpose is required to show a violation of the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment (of the U.S. Constitution)," the ruling said.

"Official action will not be held unconstitutional solely because it results in a racially disproportionate impact. Such impact is not irrelevant, but it is not the sole touchstone of an invidious racial discrimination," Powell's decision said.

All eight justices sitting on the case when oral arguments were heard in October agreed that the village had not violated the 14th Amendment, on the basis of a U.S. Supreme Court decision last year that ruled job tests are not discriminatory soely because they have greater impact on minorities.

BUT JUSTICES Byron R. White, Thurgood Marshall and William J. Brennan Jr. filed dissenting opinions.

Marshall and Bremnan concurred in the main points of the decision written by Powell, but said the "proper result" would be to remand the entire case to the Court of Appeals. "They are in a better situation to reassess the significance of the evidence in light of the standard we have set (by the job tests decision), and then to determine whether the interest of jusice requires further district court proceedings directed towards those standards," their opinion said.

White's opinion called for complete annulment of the Court of Appeals' decision and urged that the case be sent back "for consideration of the statutory issue (Fair Housing Act) and if necessary for consideration of the constitutional (14th Amendment) issue."

Only eight justices heard the Arlington Heights-MHDC case because Justice John Paul Stevens was a member of the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals when the case was decided there in June 1975.

The case was considered by the appeals court after the district court ruled in favor of the village in February 1974.

IN REVERSING the appeals court, Powell said courts could overturn local zoning decisions only upon "proof that a discriminatory purpose has been a motivating factor."

"Determining whether invidious discriminatory purpose was a motivating factor demands a sensitive inquiry into such circumstantial and direct evidence of intent as may be available," Powell wrote.

"The impact of the official action — whether it bears more heavily on race than another, may provide an important starting point, but absent a stark pattern of discrimination, impact alone is not determinative," he said.

Powell suggested that Arlington Heights might be guilty of discrimination had it suddenly changed property zoned for multi-family dwellings to more expensive single-family dwellings when MHDC applied for a building permit. But absent such unusual or timely action demonstrating discriminatory intent, no constitutional violation can be found, Powell said.

Too soon to tell impact: officials

by LYNN ASINOF

Housing experts in the Chicago area say it is too soon to evaluate the impact of Tuesday's U. S. Supreme Court ruling in the St. Viator housing case.

Most said they will have to carefully study the language of the decision, which said local zoning laws are not unconstitutional solely because they tend to keep minorities out of a community.

"It is impossible to tell to what extent it is a significant opinion," said Alexander Polikoff, attorney for both the American Civil Liberties Union and the Business and Professional People for the Public Interest.

POLIKOFF SAID THE wording of the decision might be limited so that it applied only to the Arlington Heights case.

"On the other hand, it might have general impact on situations other than those like Arlington Heights," he said.

Those who would speculate said the decision's impact will be more psychological than legal. They, however, asked not to be identified because of the sensitivity of the issue.

Jolyn Chiero of the Minority Information Center in Des Plaines, said the decision might reinforce exclusionary zoning practices in the country. She said, however, the decision probably will not blunt the move to build more subsidized housing.

"THERE ARE BUILDERS across the country who feel that if it wasn't for the rent-subsidy programs they wouldn't be able to build," she said, noting spiraling construction costs.

The immediate impact, Chiero said, "is that there won't be those additional subsidized units which are greatly needed."

She said Arlington Heights must still take steps to implement its housing-assistance plan if it is to qualify for $319,000 in federal Housing and Community Development Act funds. This plan calls for 375 units of low-and moderate-income housing in the village by 1979.

Other communities will be under similar pressure to provide subsidized housing for low-and moderate-income groups. Some housing programs will be virtually unaffected by the decision.

FOR EXAMPLE, THE Cook County Housing Authority enters into a cooperative agreement with the local communities at the beginning of any project. Victor Walchirk, executive director of the CCHA, said this means any project has community support before it is started.

The decision may cause the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission to take another look at its housing policies. The agency recently began prodding communities to address their housing problems, much to the distress of local officials.

NIPC spokesman Pat Stemper said NIPC officials can't comment on the impact of the ruling "until they see the decision."

Village plan still calls for U.S. rent subsidies

Low-and moderate-income housing has a future in Arlington Heights despite the U. S. Supreme Court decision Tuesday upholding the village's refusal to rezone property for the proposed Lincoln Green project.

A 1975 plan to provide 375 units of housing for low-and moderate-income residents by 1979 has not been abandoned, said Assistant Village Mgr. G. Frank Charlton.

"The plan has been slightly modified this year, though the goals are the same," he said. "Due to the lateness of the application (for housing and community development funds) last year, it was impossible for anyone in Arlington Heights to get rental assistance. The housing commission is considering methods for getting rental assistance."

THE VILLAGE'S HOUSING plan was adopted in late 1975 when the village board decided to apply for $319,000 in housing and community development funds offered by the U. S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development. The village has received $134,000 but no low-and moderate-income housing units have been designated.

The plan calls for scattering federally subsidized apartments throughout existing and new buildings.

Charlton said an agent must apply for needed rental subsidies for the village and that the housing commission will soon recommend that the Cook County Housing Authority act as the village's agent.

"The CCHA will get a new allocation (of rental subsidy funds) soon, so we will have to act before February," he said.

TRUSTEE DAVID Griffin and Village Pres. James T. Ryan said the housing plan has been delayed because no new multifamily dwellings have been built that could be in corporated into a partial rental-subsidy program.

"Only the future will tell if we'll meet the 375-unit goal by 1979," Ryan said. "So much of this depends on the economy and how much development there is. But we have not forgotten the plan."

Use of taxes to be studied today

The finance committee of the Arlington Heights Village Board today will discuss whether utility tax receipts from this month should be used for the water system, as proposed by Village Pres. James Ryan.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the municipal building, 33 S. Arlington Heights Rd.

Ryan last week vetoed a 42 per cent increase in water rates, saying the $120,000 the village will receive in utility tax receipts this month should be used in the water system so water rates can be increased less.

The additional utility tax income was not expected because the village board voted last month to abolish the controversial 5 per cent levy with the intent that the repeal be effective Jan. 1. The change, however, will not be effective until Feb. 1 because the utility companies cannot make the necessary billing changes until then.

Other possible uses for the extra money will be considered tonight, Frank Palmatier, chairman of the finance committee, said.

PTAs council meets today

The Arlington Heights Council of PTAs will have a general meeting at 1:15 p.m. today at Dunton School, 1200 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights.

The program, "Dist. 25 Curriculum-Language Arts and Mathematics," will be presented by Barbara Sirotin, language arts consultant and Mickey Olson, mathematics consultant.

At a glance...

A chronology of the Village of Arlington Heights vs. Metropolitan Housing Development Corp. housing case:

- Sept. 28, 1971 — Arlington Heights Village Board rejects MHDC petition for rezoning of 15-acre site southeast of St. Viator High School.
- Feb. 22, 1974 — U.S. District Court rules that MHDC failed to prove racial discrimination in the zoning refusal.
- June 10, 1975 — 7th Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals overturns district court decision, ruling that the village's refusal to rezone the Viatorian site has racially discriminatory effects.
- Dec. 15, 1975 — U.S. Supreme Court agrees to review case.
- Oct. 13, 1976 — U.S. Supreme Court hears oral arguments in case.
- Jan. 11, 1977 — U.S. Supreme Court rules no proof of discriminatory intent is shown, but remands case to Court of Appeals for decision on whether village has violated Fair Housing Act of 1968.

Nader asks ban on more food colors

Ralph Nader's health researchers Tuesday demanded a ban on six more food colors, including those used to dye the skin of oranges, hot dog casings, soft drinks, baked goods and ice cream. Citing potential safety questions ranging from cancer to allergies, the Health Research Group said the impact may be especially bad for children, some of whom "eat as much as one-quarter pound of coal tar dye each year."

One of the six dyes the group asked be banned is Red 40 — the last remaining widely used red dye still approved. The other coal tar dyes are Yellow No. 5, the most widely used food dye in the country, found extensively in baked goods, candy, ice cream and pet foods; citrus Red 2, used only to color some Florida oranges; blue No. 1, used in beverages, candy and baked goods; orange B, used extensively to color the casings of hot dogs and sausages; red No. 3, used in drugs, cosmetics and some foods.

Microwave oven repairs vowed

In the largest such action ever undertaken, General Electric has agreed to repair a potential radiation leakage problem in 36,000 microwave ovens already installed in homes across the country, the Food and Drug Administration said Tuesday. The ovens involved are GE and Hotpoinnt "Versatronic" and "Cook Center" combination thermal-microwave units made from November, 1973 through October, 1975. The repair program is the largest FDA-ordered in-home repair program ever involving microwave ovens.

Hunt for Zenith called off

The search for 38 crewmembers of the 642 foot oil tanker Grand Zenith, which vanished Dec. 30 in stormy seas south of Nova Scotia with 8.2 million gallons of fuel oil aboard, was officially ended Tuesday by the Coast Guard. "They don't really think there is much chance of survivors based on weather conditions we've had," said Coast Guard spokesman Richard Griggs. Three storms have hit the New England Coast since the tanker's captain radioed he was encountering rough weather about 60 miles south of Nova Scotia. The weather curtailed search activities and lessened already poor survival chances for the Nationalist Chinese crew.

Probe of Callaway dropped

The Justice Department announced Tuesday it has dropped its criminal investigation of conflict of interest charges against former Army Secretary Howard "Bo" Callaway, who for a time was President Ford's campaign manager. The charges concerned Callaway's efforts while Army secretary to obtain a Forestry Service permit to expand a Colorado ski resort his family owns. Disclosure of the investigation led Callaway to leave Ford's campaign last year.

Assistant Attorney General Richard L. Thornburgh of the Criminal Division sent identical letters to Callaway's lawyers and others advising them of the decision to end the investigation, a spokesman said.

Gilmore out of solitary

Condemned killer Gary Gilmore was released from solitary confinement on Death Row Tuesday long enough for a one-hour reunion with two of his brothers. Prison officers said he seemed cheered by the visit and visibly less nervous about his date with the firing squad at sunrise next Monday.

The warden's office said Gilmore, serving a 15-day disciplinary sentence in solitary, was allowed to visit with brothers Frank and Mike. The 36-year-old killer is one of nine children. Lt. Ersel Fagan, who supervised the visit, said the brothers were allowed a "contact visit," in which they were not separated by glass partitions or forced to communicate over an intercom.

Williams quotes Claudine

Singer Andy Williams Tuesday testified his ex-wife, Claudine Longet, told him privately that her shooting of her lover, pro skier Valdimir "Spider" Sabich, was accidental. " 'You know if I meant to kill him (Sabich), I would tell you,' " Williams quoted Miss Longet as saying. " 'Spider was showing me how to use the gun and Boom, Boom, Boom, it went off and I shot him.' " Williams also denied ever calling Miss Longet a "crazy gal."

The testimony came before chief prosecutor Ashley Anderson rested his case against Miss Longet, saying she recklessly pointed the gun at Sabich while the safety catch was off. At the conclusion of the prosecution's case, the defense made a motion for mismissal of the felony-manslaughter charge against the French-born Miss Longet, but it was rejected by the judge, who then recessed the trial until Wednesday when Miss Longet's defense will begin.

The world

U.S. ship, freighter collide

The U.S. aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Liberian freighter Oceanus collided in rough seas Wednesday in the Straights of Messina between the Italian mainland and Sicily, port officials said. The officials said the Liberian ship, a 23,000-ton ore carrier, sent a radio message saying the vessel had sustained heavy damage in the collision and was sailing toward port. Officials said they had received no word from the American ship.

U.S. Navy headquarters in London confirmed there had been a "minor collision and no one was hurt." The Navy officials said there was "no real damage to the Franklin D. Roosevelt's flight capabilities" but said they had no further details of the accident. Port officials said visibility was good at the time of the collision but that the seas in the narrow Staits of Messina were rough.

'I desegregated 131 schools'

Bell defends his record as judge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Griffin Bell, defending his ability to serve as the next attorney general, Tuesday fended off pointed questions on his racial stands by proclaiming that he desegregated 131 southern schools as a federal judge.

Bell, among five of Jimmy Carter's cabinet-level appointees to be questioned by Senate committees Tuesday, revealed that if he is confirmed he will name federal circuit court Judge Wade H. McCree Jr., a black from Detroit, as solicitor general.

During the confirmation hearings:

• Cyrus Vance, nominated as secretary of state, refused to rule out the shipment of weapons to Saudi Arabia, Jordan and Egypt but stressed that the United States was "irrevocably committed" to supply arms to Israel. He also called for a swift reopening of treaty talks on the Panama Canal.

• The proposed defense secretary, Harold Brown, said he would like to shift the military focus to conventional weapons which he said were "as important, if not more important" than nuclear arms.

• Rep. Bob Bergland, D-Minn., the agriculture secretary-designate, said he favors expanding farm trade but urged "caution and prudence" to prevent a run on the nation's grain supplies if they are depleted later by drought.

• Charles L. Schultze, chosen by Carter to be his chief economic adviser, defended the president-elect's economic stimulus program as adequate to do the job without causing inflation.

Bell, whose nomination has drawn fire from black leaders, including the NAACP, because of some of his rulings during 15 years as a federal judge in Atlanta, is the only Carter appointee to stir strong opposition. The others are expected to be approved swiftly once Carter is sworn in.

"I've never professed to be an activist," Bell testified. "I've never professed to be an extreme liberal. I've always professed to be a moderate."

Explaining why minorities should have faith in him, Bell said, "I would have confidence in a judge who desegregated 131 schools, who took over 30 Mississippi school cases in which the Supreme Court ordered desegregated at once.

"I THINK I DID it with an even hand. I think people who were there at the scene will have confidence in me. I think as they come to know me they will have confidence in me."

Bell admitted he was wrong in upholding the Georgia House of Representatives' ejection of black Rep. Julian Bond in the 1960s because of his opposition to the Vietnam war. The Supreme Court later said the move denied free speech.

Vance said he accepted the basis on which the Ford administration sought a new Panama Canal treaty.

"We should reopen the negotiations at a very early point, and seek to resolve the remaining issues," he said.

Legislators' meet attains nothing final

by STEVE BROWN

SPRINGFIELD — Democratic members of the state legislature caucused here Tuesday night on the eve of the opening of the 80th Illinois General Assembly, but they came to no firm conclusion on their leadership choices.

While divisions exist in both houses on the Democratic side, it is expected House Speaker William Redmond, D-Bensenville, will be reelected. State Sen. Thomas Hynes, D-Chicago, is the leading choice to replace retiring Senate Pres. Cecil Partee, D-Chicago, but there is a sharp division in that contest.

Few observers expect either the House or Senate leadership fights to duplicate the 1974 house contest when 89 ballots wert needed before Redmond was elected speaker.

SENATE DEMOCRATICS took only one roll call during the closed-door caucus. The balloting gave Hynes only 19 of the necessary 30 votes needed to win election.

State Sen. Terry Bruce, D-Olney, received 10 votes and State Sen. Harold Washington, D-Chicago, received five votes. Bruce said after the caucus that he is in the leadership fight all the way.

"I am not afraid of a many-ballot contest. I think the process of trying to open up the Senate is healthy," Bruce said.

Hynes said he is hopeful of working out a compromise with the Democratic members of the Senate. He would not specify if he will offer Bruce, a member of the so-called crazy-eight bloc of independent Democrats in the Senate, an assistant leadership position or committee chairmanships in order to win the election.

REPUBLICAN MEMBERS of the legislature caucused last month and chose State Sen. David Shapiro, R-Amboy, as the minority leader in the upper chamber and State Rep. George H. Ryan, R-Kankakee, as the minority leader in the House.

It now appears suburban Cook County stands to loose leadership positions in both parties in the legislature. There is speculation Ryan will not appoint a suburbanite to replace State Rep. Bryan Duff, R-Willmette, who served as an assistant minority whip. Duff retired from the legislature after being elected a circuit court judge in November.

Suburban Democrats also are not expected to regain the leadership position held by retiring house majority leader Gerald Shea, D-Riverside.

State Rep. Aaron Jaffe, D-Skokie, has talked to some lawmakers about putting his name in nomination for the speaker's race. Jaffe is not considered a serious candidate, and some observers have suggested he is interested in a lesser leadership position or a committee chairmanship.

There were no clear indications after the Senate caucus of how much compromising would have to be done before supporters of Bruce and Washington would switch over to Hynes.

Several Chicago Democrats including State Sen. Howard Carroll refused to rule out the possibility that a fourth candidate could emerge as a compromise choice.

Hynes, who has the backing of newly elected Cook County Democratic Chairman George Dunne, refused to rule out the possibility that the assistant majority leadership posts might be expanded to include a black Democrat from Chicago. Washington, a black, has all of his support from that bloc of state senators.

The loss of the suburban leadership post once held by Duff generally was attributed to the lack of suburban support for Ryan in his race with State Rep. William Walsh, R-LaGrange Park.

Carter moves to restore trust

In his statement on ethics policies for the new administration, President-elect Jimmy Carter has taken a major step toward restoring trust in government.

While the tough new proposal may be difficult to enforce, it goes far beyond the usual and often ignored pledge to conduct an honest and open government.

Carter himself will put all of his holdings in trust and allow the trustee to decide whether the property and peanut processing plant he owns in Plains, Ga., should be leased or sold.

Carter's action on his personal affairs is a good step, and his instructions to other high level appointees are equally encouraging.

He will require government officials to file annual statements of their net worth while in office and for a two-year period after leaving government.

In addition, he will strengthen bans on former government employes becoming lobbyists for the industries they regulated and will require his appointees to divest themselves of all personal holdings which may create the appearance of a conflict with official duties.

The new rules will cover 77,000 government employes.

There has already been talk that the new standards are too strict, but given the abuses witnessed during other administrations, the stringent requirements are justified.

Through his action, Carter has done more than give lip service to the idea of tougher government ethics. The new plan may turn out to have some loopholes, and persons determined to use their official positions for personal gain will find ways to subvert the rules. However, the rules go a long way toward plugging some of the biggest gaps in conduct standards set for top government officials.

The most important thing for Carter to do now that he has made his proposal is to stick by it and to insist it be followed by all his appointees. Backsliding on enforcement will only confirm the cynical appraisal of many citizens.

They're key to responsive government

Civil servants Carter's challenge

by ARNOLD SAWISLAK
Commentary

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Years ago, Vice President Alben Barkley asked a campaign audience the rhetorical question: "What is a bureaucrat?"

"A bureaucrat," the vice president thundered, "is a Democrat who has a job a Republican wants."

What the canny old Kentuckian was saying, and what changes of administration have demonstrated repeatedly, is that loud cries of outrage about the size and quality of the federal payroll more often are the product of lust for political spoils than of commitment to government efficiency.

But Barkley's partisan jabs masked — even in his day — an important fact about the federal payroll. It is that most of the people with federal jobs under a Republican administration will have the same jobs under a Democratic regime. They are the civil servants and they will be at the same desks Jan. 21 as they were Jan. 19.

IN RECENT WEEKS, much has been made about the document called "The Plum Book," a listing of several thousand federal jobs from which Jimmy Carter can evict Republicans to install deserving Democrats. But it should be kept in mind that the Plum Book does not list nearly three million federal jobs whose occupants are immunized against the vagaries of politics by the civil service system.

One example of this situation: the Transportation Department has 45,000 jobs; eight are filled by political appointment. If Carter wants to impose some sweeping new policies on the department, it will fall to Brock Adams, his Transportation Secretary-designate, and seven other people to carry them out.

THE CIVIL SERVICE was created to cure the abuses of the patronage system—the awarding of government jobs to political favorites — and to lessen the temptations of bribery.

It has done those things well. But the checks and balances that have accomplished these goals also permit, even encourage, foot-dragging, duplication of effort and timidity in government operations.

Even civil servants who want to get a job done quickly and efficiently often are crippled by paperwork requirements and overlapping jurisdictions. And federal workers who oppose the administration in power can find ample protection in the regulations if they want to slow down the process to transforming policies into action.

JUST BY FOLLOWING the "book," bureaucrats can safely erect barricades that simply stop progress in Washington.

Carter has said he is going to reorganize the federal government to get it working again for the taxpayers. He may find that the problem is deeper than structure. It may be systemic, requiring basic changes in the personnel arrangements of the federal government.

It might, for example, suggest the imposition of performance standards on federal employes. Thus civil servants, like the employes of most private businesses, might be required to get their work done quickly and correctly.

That would be revolutionary. Carter will find it hard to straighten out the organization of the federal government, but a piece of cake compared to reforming the civil service.

Energy crisis returns

Since the long waiting lines for gasoline faded into memory, it has been getting harder and harder to take the energy crisis seriously.

The current cold spell and the signs that it will indeed be a long, cold winter are bringing the reality home again.

Northern Illinois Gas Co. last week announced that consumers can expect a 45 to 50 per cent increase in their gas bills this winter because of the cold weather.

Officials in Minnesota, where temperatures are far below zero, are taking stock of fuel supplies. And reports indicate spot shortages of fuel are showing up in some rural areas.

For the past few years, those familiar with this country's energy problems have been predicting trouble if there were a cold winter. And each time, the winter weather has proved milder than normal, sparing us the discomfort of confronting the need to conserve energy.

So far, it does not look like this winter's weather will hit Northern Illinois with actual fuel shortages. Instead, the impact on our area of the cold weather will be mostly in our pocketbooks.

However, we should consider ourselves fortunate not to face shortages and begin paying close attention to the way we use fuel.

There is no guarantee next winter won't be even colder.

Bureau asks for help from FISH

This letter is meant to carry a message to the F.I.S.H. organizations in the Northwest Cook County area. On Jan. 28, at 1 p.m., in the District 25 Administration Building, 301 W. South Street, Arlington Heights, the Volunteer Service Bureau will host a fact-finding round table discussion on "Aging: Problems and Solutions."

At our first meeting on Nov. 12, we defined several needs. The areas of transportation, meals and in-home help were some that were explored. We know that F.I.S.H. provides this type of help but we do not have a mailing address, just phone numbers for most of the groups. We would like very much to see interested F.I.S.H. members come and participate in our meeting. For that matter, any group or organization which has something to contribute should consider itself invited. Please call the Volunteer Service Bureau, 398-1320, before January 26.

We hope you're well soon, chief

I would like to thank the members of the staff of your paper for their kind consideration after my surgery and during my confinement, especially Jerry Thomas and Toni Ginnetti who have been so kind as to call me at the hospital and call me at home to see how I am recovering from my operation.

I feel we have had good relations with The Herald and with Paddock Publications within the last year or two and I feel that you are bringing the news as it is. Please continue to do so. We all know you can't please everybody all of the time, but from the consensus of the men and the workers of the City of Rolling Meadows, and as the mayor so aptly put it the other evening at a meeting, the people who keep the aldermen in office are very grateful for your outspoken and honest reporting.

It is unfortunate that I had this accident within the station and may not be able to return for eight to 12 weeks. We have a shuttle system that the men bring the work over to me and I get the letters out and take care of the day to day business and so the people are not really without a chief of police and neither is the department. I am making the decisions on a day to day basis which keeps me occupied and I welcome all the phone calls that I have received from the citizens and their cards and get well messages.

Lewis R. Case
Chief of Police

Will Brown focus clearly on defense problems?

Commentary

WASHINGTON — When Harold Brown is busy on a problem, a beautiful dancing girl could do a striptease in his offiice and he'd never lift an eye, says one old Pentagon friend. It's not that Brown has no eye for beauty. Witness his choice of a wife. But his powers of concentration are enormous. And he's a bug for work.

That's one categorization of President-elect Carter's selection for Secretary of Defense.

The same friend adds that Brown, now president of the California Institute of Technology, can get so involved in the details of a problem, and spend so many hours, or days, in pursuing the intellectually intriguing minutiae involved that it is impossible to get him down to talking on practical, urgent matters at hand.

ANOTHER HIGH-LEVEL civilian bureaucrat concurs. "When he was secretary of the Air Force, pressing problems of major importance would lie on his desk for days, while we all went crazy knowing we had deadlines to meet. Brown would be tied up attacking some minor but fascinating technical dilemma."

This isn't to say Brown spent all his time on trivia, the bureaucrat adds hastily; Brown was attracted by any theoretical or technical matter — and was truly ingenious in his attacks on an array of perplexing scientific problems in Air Force weaponry. The difficulty was he wasn't much interested in anything else.

However, with all his pluses and minuses taken into account — including a certain intellectual arrogance and disdain for those lacking technical know-how — Brown, I've found, will be welcomed back at the Pentagon. In part, but not entirely, it's because he went along with those programs, including the big weapons, that the uniformed military wanted. He was, then at least, a backer of the B-1.

BUT BROWN may have changed. Once known as a hardliner because of his support for hefty bombing in the Vietnam war, Brown has of late acquired a reputation for softness toward the Russians. This, it is understood, is primarily because of the stands he has taken as a participant in the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) with the Soviet Union.

My own sources (in this case hardliners) have a different interpretation of Brown's disarmament actions. Concern over what Brown will agree to in SALT worries men here who have worked with him in these talks. But the worry is not based on fear Brown is a dove. It's rather that they have found, curiously enough, that the new defense secretary has been, in their mind, willing to go along with fuzzy agreements with the Russians — agreements so loosely worded they leave the door open for the Russians to do about what they want.

THAT THIS WORRY is not an illusion has been demonstrated this past year by Russian violations of what Washington understood to be the guts of the first SALT agreement. After complaints were made by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's men, it was found the problem lay in the treaty's language. It was possible, through somewhat shifty analysis, to show that the language permitted missile improvements and force build-ups the U.S. negotiators had thought were prohibited.

Now it is passing strange that a scientist so intent on detail in technology as Brown could be, as reported, so lax in his thinking on the language in technical treaty discussions. But such, I guess, is the nature of man.

The problem all this raises is clear. When Dr. Brown gets outside his own technical specialty — even in the lateral aspects of nuclear technology — does he lose the balance and ability for hard-headed questioning which serve him so well on his own turf?

Consumer groups expect payoff

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The organized consumer movement, which campaigned for Jimmy Carter last year, now expects a reward — something it has been unable to accomplish itself despite years of effort.

The payoff it wants, and doubtless will get, is a federal agency to do inside the government what consumer leaders have been trying to do on the outside.

The new organization would be an "agency for consumer advocacy." As debated in Congress for the past several years, it would consist of a relatively small staff with the power to represent the purchasing public when other federal agencies are making decisions of vital consumer interest.

ALTHOUGH THE idea has been approved by the Democratic-dominated Congress, opposition from the Republican-controlled White House kept it from becoming law.

But Carter, meeting with Ralph Nader shortly after the 1976 campaign began, endorsed the idea of a federal consumer agency.

"It will have a lot of support again in Congress," said Joan Claybrook, Nader's No. 1 Capitol Hill lobbyist. "Carter wants it and he wants it early, and he's enthusiastic about it."

There still will be some tugging and pulling over how to shape the agency, but consumer leaders seem so convinced it is on the way that they now are talking about it almost as an accomplished fact.

Ms. Claybrook also cites two other pieces of consumer legislation she and Nader will be after in the next few months. The first would establish a bank to make loans to consumer co-ops. The second would help reimburse citizens for travel and other expenses for participating in federal hearings.

ANOTHER CONSUMER issue that may come to a head this year is banning throw-away cans and bottles. In the November election Michigan and Maine did so, joining Oregon, Vermont and South Dakota. Voters in Massachusetts and Colorado turned down similar measures.

Pam Deuel, a lobbyist for Environmental Action, foresees "wide new interest in Congress" in federal antithrowaway legislation. Her group and other backers of the concept have failed in past attempts on Capitol Hill but believe the increase in the number of no-throwaway states will help their chances this time.

During the campaign Carter said he had not made up his mind on the issue. Organized labor, among others, strongly opposes it.

Although Nader and other consumer leaders have been somewhat critical of some of Carter's cabinet choices, they appear more pleased than not. They have adopted a wait-and-see attitude on many other pending consumer issues that will be affected, in part, by the kinds of appointments Carter eventually makes to the regulatory agencies.

Tax-exempt mutual funds require careful shopping

Speaking dollar-wise

by Robert S. Rosefsky

Keeping tabs on the new breed of tax-exempt mutual funds:

The Investment Company Institute, a trade association for the mutual fund industry, reports that 10 such funds rang up sales of $108.5 million during November, which was the first full month of operation for many of them.

These new funds accounted for a full 25 per cent of all mutual fund sales during November and gave the industry its first month out of the past 20 in which sales exceeded redemptions. In other words, they provided a much-needed tonic for an otherwise ailing patient.

Mutual fund industry observers have speculated that there may be as many as 50 such funds on the market within the next year and that they may account for as much as $10 billion in assets in the next few years. They seem off to a good start in that direction.

TO RECAP briefly, these mutual funds invest your money in municipal bonds, which are IOUs cities issue when they borrow money. Under the law, the interest that investors receive on these bonds is exempt from federal income taxes.

To a taxpayer filing a joint return with a taxable income of $16,000 to $20,000, a tax-exempt yield of 6 per cent — which is close to the average yield offered by many of the funds — is comparable to a taxable yield of 8.33 per cent.

I've been accumulating the proposecti of most of these new funds; and after a lot of squinting, translating and evaluating, I can report most assuredly that careful shopping must be done by the would-be investor. All funds are not offering the same thing.

Of seven that I've studied to date, there is a noticeable difference in the way their money will be invested. The range is srom 75 per cent "ordinarily" invested in top-rated bonds (AAA, AA and A on the Standard and Poor scale; Aaa, Aa and A on the Moody's scale), to "at least" 90 per cent in the same classes of bonds. Two of the seven will permit up to 25 per cent to be invested in lesser rated or non-rated bonds.

ALL OF THESE funds allow themselves the privilege of making temporary or "defensive" investments in other kinds of securities — usually high-quality items. The amount that can be invested temporarily or for defensive purposes (meaning generally in anticipation of a sharp market decline) ranges from 20 per cent in some, 50 per cent in one and unspecified amounts in others.

What this can mean is that not all of your investment will necessarily be tax exempt at any given time. Generally — and I emphasize that word — the objective of the funds is to have as much as 80 per cent or more in such tax-exempt issues. The rest might be in taxable issues. Further, note that the federally exempt income is not exempt from state or local income taxes.

See your stockbroker for more details and do your homework carefully, lest you find yourself comparing apples and oranges.

IH reorganizes into 5 world units

A reorganization of International Harvester into five worldwide manufacturing and marketing groups to handle IH agricultural equipment, trucks, construction equipment, parts and industrial gas turbines was announced Tuesday by Brooks McCormick, president. McCormick said plans call for the establishment this year of the positions of chairman and chief executive officer and president and chief operating officer, and vice chairmen of the giant firm. McCormick said during the transition period he will retain his present position. McCormick said the reorganization would include taking four existing divisions and turning them into global groups and establishing a new unit, called the Components Group, to handle manufacturing of axles, engines, castings and management of IH's parts distribution. IH's "five free standing, self-sufficient worldwide business groups," will be effective Feb. 1.

'Loan rate hike tied to crops'

Agriculture Secretary-designate Bob Bergland said Tuesday support and loan rates for farm crops are unrealistically low, but indicated any increase would be linked to a new system of crop reserves held by farmers. Bergland, a farmer and Minnesota congressman, was warmly received by the Senate Agriculture Committee during informal confirmation hearings. Bergland told the committee he agreed with the concept of increasing farm supports so farms could have greater flexibility in the marketplace. He endorsed, too, tying loan rates to a percentage of production cost. He warned however that an immediate increase in wheat supports — favored by some farm groups — could create serious problems unless coupled with development of a plan to help farmers hold crop reserves on their farms.

Job clinic begins Tuesday

The Chicago Job Clinic sponsored by the members of the Sales and Marketing Executives Assn. of Chicago begins Tuesday at the Sheraton Oak Brook Hotel in Oak Brook. According to Raymond Western, president of the Rolling Meadows-based association, the clinic is designed to help participants understand the basics of locating and securing a job. The 7 to 10 p.m. clinic will be followed by another session a week later. A new series will begin the third Tuesday of each month. The registration cost is $10. Additional information is available from Everett Brink at 963-1717.

Signalmen ask 15% wage hike

The Brotherhood f Railroad Signalmen has notified the nation's railroads of its request for a 15 per cent wage increase for each of the next three years, according to Charles J. Chamberlain, president. The union also seeks changes in cost-of-living wage adjustments and other benefits. The contract for Signalmen, who install and maintain railroad automated signal systems, expires at the end of 1977. A three-year contract will be negotiated, effective Jan. 1, 1978. Union offices are at 601 W. Golf Rd., Mount Prospect.

Active trading pushes Dow down 10.22 points

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices plunged Tuesday in active trading on New York Stock Exchange issues amid speculation the government's Wholesale Price Index would show a sharp increase because of rising industrial commodities prices.

The Dow Jones industrial average, up more than two points at the outset, fell 10.22 points to 976.65, the worst loss since it fell 11.88 on Jan. 4. It had gained about nine points the previous three sessions, including 3.74 points Monday.

Broader-based averages also fell. The NYSE common stock index dropped 0.54 to 56.34 and the average price of a common share decreased by 33 cents. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index, containing some over-the-counter stocks, lost 1.08 to 104.12.

DECLINES ROUTED advances by about an 11-to-4 margin among the 1,917 issues crossing the tape.

Volume totaled 24,100,000 shares, up from the 20,860,000 traded Monday.

Volume of NYSE-listed issues on all exchanges totaled 27,849,600 shares, compared with 24,255,800 Monday.

Selling intensified during the afternoon when reports circulated on Wall Street that the government's Wholesale Price Index for December, scheduled to be released Wednesday, would show a sharp rise.

ALSO, BLUE-CHIP International Paper, one of the first major companies to report, triggered some selling when the company announced its fourth quarter earnings fell to $1.02 a share from $1.69 a year ago.

Investors, meanwhile, showed little reaction to the Carter administration's tax-cut and jobs proposals. Occidental Petroleum was the most active NYSE-listed issue, off 1-3/8 to 24 on 539,800 sharaes, including blocks of 120,000 shares at 24¾ and 130,000 shares at 24-1/8.

U.S. Industries followed, up ¼ to 8-3/8 on 294,200 shares. McDonald's was third, off ½ to 52-3/8 on 264,600 shares, including a block of 100,000 shares at 52¾.

In over-the-counter trading, the National Assn. of Securities Dealers composite index of 2,119 selected issues lost 0.90 to 96.41. Advances outnumbered declines by a two-to-one margin among the 2,556 issues traded. Volume totaled 8,508,900 shares, compared with 7,284,500 traded Monday.

JEAN SCHICKEL, sales representative for Pitney Bowes in Arlington Heights, says her job is more appealing than teaching because "it's like owning your business . . . you can go as far as you want by working hard for it." She's been at Pitney Bowes a year and has already earned a trip to the Bahamas for her sales efforts.

Look who's making the sales pitch!

by LAURA SCHMALBACH

During Joyce Braser's first corporation meeting, a zealous speaker spiced his remarks with a curse or two. Unusual? Maybe not, but the young sales trainee was the only woman in the room — and the remark was followed by several pairs of eyes riveting to her face for a reaction.

"I just laughed it off with 'It doesn't bother me,' " said Ms. Braser, "and from that point on it was downhill. Once men get over the surprise, the acceptance is great."

The Chemplex trainee's remarks were echoed by several other sales representatives at local businesses and industries, and whether they're peddling computers or carpets, the attractions of a sales career more than compensate for the disadvantages.

Already established in real estate, insurance and retailing, women sales representatives are making headway in technical industries often dominated by men. For many, the chief appeal is money.

Jean Schickel, a sales representative for Pitney Bowes mailing systems and copier company, applied for her job after stints as a teacher and a part-time educational sales representative because "I was getting tired of chicken and hamburger. . .I wanted a career, and this appealed to me because I could get ahead."

FOR MS. SCHICKEL, "getting ahead" will mean a Bahamas trip in May as a reward for her sales efforts at Pitney Bowes and Ms. Braser decided to use her recently-acquired marketing degree in industrial rather than retail sales because of the financial incentive.

Stephanie Shaw, a national accounts representative for Galaxy Carpet Mills in Elk Grove Village, says her job is "a real plum" — due in part to the $22,000 she's paid yearly. But good money isn't the only bonus to a career in sales, she emphasized.

"I like the people and I like the hard work. . .it's a great combination," said Ms. Shaw. "It's not all romance and glamour, but it sure beats sitting in an office."

Like Ms. Shaw, Joyce Braser won't have to worry about "cabin fever" — following her nine-month training period at Chemplex, she'll be spending close to 90 per cent of her time on the road selling polyethelene plastics to top-level executives.

But while Ms. Braser is excited at the prospect of airport-hopping every week, the life of a traveling salesperson is a major drawback of the job for other local sales representatives.

"After a few weeks, the thrill wears off and one city looks just like the next," said one representative who spends an average of four nights on the road. "It's a scary feeling being stuck in Detroit alone, trying to find a car, map and hotel."

AND WHILE a male colleague can always find a friendly ear at the motel bar, "you just can't set yourself down alone at a bar without being suspect," she added. "It's a very lonely type of life, you end up reading a lot of books in your motel room."

Whether they spend their time on the road or in the Chicago area, male clients unfamiliar with feminine sales pitches often result in touchy situations for lady salesmen.

When many executives assume you're the secretary to the salesman, it can be tough going — and most women compensate by making it known that they know their business from top to bottom.

"Being a woman may help you get your foot in the door, but after that you have to make darn sure you know what you're talking about," said Pitney Bowes' Schickel.

Gerrie Clotfelter, an account executive for the educational division of Motorola, concurs. The training period is often especially important for women, she said, because "almost 90 per cent of the material is completely foreign to anything in a woman's past experience. It involves a total re-education for most of us."

ENTERTAINING clients, an obligatory part of the job for most salesmen can be sticky for women sales representatives. Several reported squabbles over the paycheck at the end of a meal, and one maintained that "you still run into plenty of men who say 'I'll buy your product if you'll go out with me.' "

But maintaining a crisp, professional appearance and keeping the meeting on a business-like keel eliminates most problems both on the road and in the office. For example, Schickel said she's run into opposition only two or three times "in small offices. . .and then all I have to do is tell them I was a teacher — no one talks back to a teacher!"

Whether she's single or married, travels or not, a career as a sales representative is a tough one, women agree.

"Many women just couldn't hack this type of field because the pressure is intense," said Ms. Shaw at Galaxy Carpet Mills. "When you've had a late evening, it's hard to get up at 6 a.m. and hit the road, and it isn't easy to lug those heavy carpet samples around. But if you're willing to put out the effort, it's more than worth it."

SELLING PLASTICS to a variety of manufacturers involves plenty of detailed training, says Joyce Braser of Chemplex in Rolling Meadows. The only woman sales representative in the firm, Ms. Braser says that surprise, not discrimination, is the common reaction from the male executives she contacts. She will complete training in about three months.

Parents should control TV set, say broadcasters

by PATRICIA McCORMACK

Representatives of the broadcast industry suggest that parents take more responsibility for the impact of television on their children.

Estelle Gould, director of community affairs for WTAE-TV in Pittsburgh, testifying at the national PTA's first regional hearing on television violence held in Pittsburgh, said the most important item is "control of the set."

"A family should watch together," she said.

"I'm not a psychologist, psychiatrist or a teacher, but I have been told by people who are that if an adult watches with a child and is available for an explanation, there is less chance of harm from violence and from frightening subject matter."

Roy Danish, director of the Television Information Offiice in New York, said:

"WE BROADCASTERS are doing a great deal to remove gratuitous violence. And more can and will be done in this area. But it would be wrong to present a picture of the world in which there is no conflict — and no aggression.

"And it would be wrong to place the sole responsibility on the broadcaster — parents and educators have a responsibility, too."

Danish discussed what is known about television as a cause of violence in the real world.

The most ambitious investigation was made four years ago under the aegis of the U.S. Surgeon General. It cost more than $1 million and involved dozens of researchers.

"The studies did not conclude with a clear-cut indictment of television," Danish said.

Mrs. Gould, in television since 1950 and also the parent of a college-age son and a daughter in the ninth grade, spoke both as a representative of the television industry and as a mother of two.

"I FULLY ADMIT that there is violence on television," she said.

"But it is worth remembering that ours is not the first society to merchandise violence as a form of entertainment.

"Violence has always been a part of art, from Greek tragedy through Shakespearean drama, up to modern times.

"Since the earliest two-reel Mack Sennet comedies, violence has been a staple of movies, through it has expressed different attitudes and different social values over the years.

"The violence shown is a reflection of what is happening in the world. Television is a mirror of conditions . . it does not initiate them."

Danish said the amount of violence on television is being cut down. According to a study done for CBS, the incidence of violence in prime time on the three networks was cut 24 per cent from 1974-75 to 1975-76. The study spanned a 13-week period.

"The current season," Danish said, "has fewer programs with an opportunity for violence. And in every time period with series programs the viewer has the choice of at least one nonviolent network show.

"THE POSSIBILITY of lack of choice does occur on parts of three evenings where two movies are shown at the same time — but a check of schedules for this past season shows that both movies contained violent scenes only one time out of five.

"And of course, there is the alternate programming provided by stations not affiliated with networks and by public television stations as well . .

"The three networks also have specialists who preview all programs and work with producers at all stages of script development," Danish said.

"The networks, like most stations, subscribe to the Television Code of the National Association of Broadcasters. The networks and the Code Authority employ 150 persons at an annual cost of $4 million.

"The Television Code recognizes that children should be exposed, at the appropriate times, to a reasonable range of the realities which exist in the world," Danish said.

"THERE ARE programs that deal with history, government and biography, with biology and astronomy, with the environment and animal life and with the seas and the stars.

"Youngsters are literally given a worldwide view of people and places through television."

The doctor says

by Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Reader confused about cholesterol

I read your article stating that none of the vegetable oils contain cholesterol. While the department of agriculture does agree with this, the American Heart Assn. does not.

Their folder "The Way to a Man's Heart" contains these statements: "Saturated animals fats are found in beef, lamb, pork and ham; in butter, cream and whole milk; and in cheeses made from cream and whole milk." Saturated vegetable fats are found in many solid and hydrogenated shortenings; and in coconut oil, cocoa butter and palm oil (used in commercially prepared cookies, pie fillings and non-dairy milk and cream substitutes.)

I have included your letter in my column as an example of the confusion that the public has about cholesterol. The statement by the American Heart Assn. has nothing to do with cholesterol. Look at your folder again and notice you are quoting from the paragraph on saturated fats — not cholesterol.

The problem is that the public at large does not yet realize that saturated fat and cholesterol are not at all the same thing. While plants may contain saturated fat, they do not contain cholesterol, and the American Heart Assn. has never said that they do. The statements you quote do not say that either.

Cholesterol is an animal product. Saturated fats are found in both animal and vegetable foods. Too much saturated fat in the diet is believed by many scientists to increase the body's formation of cholesterol. That is why the American Heart Assn.'s pamphlet you cite emphasized what foods contain saturated fat, not because these foods all contain cholesterol.

It is extremely important that the public learn what is meant by cholesterol, saturated fats and polyunsaturated fats. Without this understanding and its application to the food you eat, there is no way you can really profit from the recommendations by the American Heart Assn. or any other group interested in preventing heart attacks, strokes and other complications of fatty-cholesterol deposits in the arteries.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 1-2, Cholesterol, Triglycerides, Blood Fats, Atherosclerosis, to help you understand these important facts. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Just send your letter to me in care of Paddock Publications, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

What are histamines?

Histamine is a complex chemical manufactured by animal and plant tissues. It contains an amine group of nitrogen and hydrogen the same as the amine group in an amino acid from protein.

Histamine is important in certain circulatory reactions, stimulates the stomach to produce acid digestive juice and is an irritant that causes the symptoms people have during an allergic response. The offending, "allergic agent" enters the body and the body releases histamine from sensitive cells. The histamine release causes symptoms, such as a runny nose, asthma attack or hives. Antihistamines counteract the action of histamines and relieve the symptoms of allergic reactions.

Here's original recipe for flour-less cookies

When Mrs. R. G. Bonham asked for a cookie recipe without flour, several kind readers sent recipes — each slightly different — for what was termed "Wasps' Nests." While checking to determine which to use, I ran into the original in the Fannie Farmer Cookbook. With all respect to the newer variants, here's the original for anyone interested.

Butter and flour several cookie sheets and preheat oven to 300 degrees. Shred lengthwise one-half pound blanched almonds. Then cook one-half cup sugar and one-fourth cup water together until the syrup spins a thread. Stir in almonds. Grate or chop fine one 8-ounce package semisweet chocolate. Beat three egg whites until very stiff, then add two cups confectioners' sugar by the spoonful, beating constantly. Add chocolate and almond mixture. Put half-teaspoonfuls of the dough on cookie sheets. Bake until dry (about 25 minutes). Let stand 10 minutes and remove from pan. Makes about 100 cookies.

Dear Dorothy: My son swung a wet tea bag around the kitchen — painted only two weeks ago. I haven't been able to budge the stains. Can you help with any ideas? — Mrs. C. Walsh

It's painful to be the bearer of bad news, but I'm afraid you're going to have a repainting job. The problem is the fresh paint. If it was an old paint job, it would be nicely hardened and a gentle turpentine rub would have taken off the marks. Any kind of stain on fresh paint is difficult to remove, and tea is worse than most because it's like a dye. Sorry!

Dear Dorothy: How do you clean alabaster?—Melvin Cohen

It can be wiped clean with a cloth wrung out of clear water or, if it's soiled, with a cloth wrung out of a mild solution of detergent and water — not soap.

Deborah Schwind-Michael J. Holm

Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Holm

"The busiest weekend of my life" is how Deborah J. Schwind will probably remember one weekend in December. On Dec. 17 she graduated from Northern Illinois University and Dec. 18 she became Mrs. Michael J. Holm.

She and Mike, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holm, Champaign, Ill., were married in St. Mary's Catholic Church, Buffalo Grove, the same church where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland J. Schwind of Prairie View, were married.

The double ring ceremony took place at 2:30 p.m. in a green and red setting.

Debby wore a white, embroidery trimmed, polysatin gown with full train. Embroidered roses edged her headpiece and long veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, red roses, Fuji mums and stephanotis.

Karen Bingham of Buffalo Grove, the bride's sister, served as matron of honor. She wore a white lace-trimmed, green jersey dress and jacket and green lace-trimmed headpiece. Her flowers were red and white carnations with holly and red star flowers.

WEARING IDENTICAL gowns were the bridesmaids, Nancy Lange, Buffalo Grove, and Joanne Mason, Arlington Heights. The bride's nephew, 4-year-old Robert Bingham, was ring bearer.

Best man was Richard Parkinson of Mount Prospect. The bride's brother-in-law, Sam Bingham, and Mark Holm, the groom's brother, served as groomsmen.

A dinner reception was held for 105 guests at Lord's Restaurant, Clayton House, Wheeling. The newlyweds, who have postponed their honeymoon until spring, are now residing in Buffalo Grove.

Debby, a '73 graduate of Wheeling High School, met her husband in a biology class at Harper College, where she earned an associate degree. She then graduated from Northern. Mike, a 1970 graduate of the University of Illinois, earned his master's degree at Purdue University in 1973. He is currently teaching junior high school in Park Ridge.

Weddings

Yvonne Pitelka–Patrick Balwierz

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Balwierz

Patrick Balwierz' boss and Yvonne Pitelka's co-worker arranged a blind date for them three years ago and this past Dec. 19 at Christ Lutheran Church, Palatine, the couple became man and wife.

Yvonne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Pitelka of Palatine; Patrick's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Balwierz of Deerfield.

For the 4:30 p.m., double ring ceremony, conducted by candlelight, Yvonne wore an old-fashioned ivory gown trimmed in lace. Her fingertip veil fell from a cap of flowered lace and pearls, and she carried a nosegay of white carnations, pink roses and baby's breath.

HER SISTER, Cynthia, served as maid of honor, wearing a turquoise gown and carrying a nosegay of pink carnations and baby's breath. Thomas Goodwillie, Deerfield, served as best man.

Following a dinner at Swedish Manor, Arlington Heights, guests were invited to the bride's parents' home for wedding cake.

The newlyweds spent a brief honeymoon at the Abbey, Fontana, Wis., then returned to Des Plaines where they now reside.

Yvonne, a 1971 graduate of Palatine High School, attended Northern Illinois University and is working on a degree in elementary education at Northeastern Illinois University, Chicago.

Patrick attends Northeastern's night school, majoring in biology and is employed at Bio Labs, Inc., Northbrook.

BILL BUCKNER, obtained Tuesday by the Cubs, hit .301 in 1976 with 60 runs-batted-in. He missed part of the season with an ankle injury. A .289 career hitter, Buckner had his biggest year in 1974 with the Los Angeles Dodgers, batting .314 with 31 stolen bases.

Cubs ticket Monday to LA; obtain Buckner, De Jesus

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Los Angeles Dodgers, who were shut out in the recent scramble for free agents at the winter baseball meetings, Tuesday obtained outfielder Rick Monday from the Cubs in a trade for outfielder Bill Buckner, infielder Ivan De Jesus and pitcher Jeff Albert.

Monday, 31, is an 11-year veteran center fielder who hit .272 in 1976 for the Cubs. He gained national attention for an incident at Dodge Stadium last season in which he prevented two persons from burning the American flag on the field.

In addition to Monday, the Dodgers received relief pitcher Mike Garman.

"WE'RE QUITE happy to have Rick Monday," said Dodger vice president Al Campanis. "We've tried to get him in the past few years and he's an outstanding hitter and a great fielder.

"Rick will play center field for us and Mike Garman should help us in the bullpen. Garman throws hard and has excellent control."

Monday hit 32 home runs and scored 107 for career highs last season while alternating between the outfield and first base. His slugging percentage of .507 — based on extra base hits — in 1976 was fourth best in the National League.

Ivan De Jesus

Rick Monday

Monday also was outstanding in the field, recording the second best fielding percentage for an outfielder in the league at .993, making only two errors in 284 chances.

A NATIVE of nearby Santa Monica, Calif., Monday came to the Cubs in 1971 from Oakland in a trade which sent Cubs pitcher Ken Holtzman to the Bay Area team.

Garman, 27, is a right-hander with a strong fast ball. He was 2-4 with a 4.97 ERA in 47 games with six saves last year. Garman broke in with the Boston Red Sox after he was their No. 1 choice in the June, 1967 free agent draft. He was traded to St. Louis in 1974 where he spent two years before coming to the Cubs in 1976. His finest year in the majors was 1974 when he was 7-2 with a 2.63 ERA with six saves.

Buckner, 27, hit .301 and drove in 60 runs in 1976 for the Dodgers to increase his major league career batting average to .289. Buckner stole 28 bases last season and 31 in 1974 when he led the Dodgers in hitting with a .314 average. He missed part of last season with an injured ankle.

De Jesus, 24, batted .171 in only 22 games for the Dodgers in 1976. He is currently batting near the .300 mark for Hombre and pacing the Puerto Rican winter league in stolen bases. In his last full season, in 1975, while playing at Albuquerque in the Class AAA Pacific Coast League, he batted a respectable .298 and stole 22 bases.

ALBERT, 22, WAS 8-3 with eight complete games and a 2.82 ERA at Bellingham, Wash., in the Class A Northwest League. He also recorded three shutouts while allowing only 87 hits and striking out 32 in 102 innings.

Albert will be assigned to the Cubs' Class AA club at Midland, in the Texas League, the Cubs said.

Meadows stuns Elk Grove; Bison roll

Bob Rose and Bob Furlan each hit for 20 points to lead the Rolling Meadows Mustangs in the 68-51 romp over the host Elk Grove Grenadiers Tuesday night.

The win sets up a tie in the Mid-Suburban League South basketball race between Meadows and Elk Grove. Both clubs own 4-1 league marks. Hoffman Estates is right behind with a 3-1 slate.

The Mustangs blew to an early lead with a man-to-man, full-court press that completely demolished the Grens in an intense physical struggle marred by a fight late in the game.

THE MUSTANGS raced to a 15-10 first quarter lead and led 37-26 at halftime. Despite playing without two starters much of the second half, Meadows held at least a 10-point margin throughout the rest of the contest.

Both 6-7 center Kevin Kiley and 6-1 forward Kevin Krutwig went to the Meadows bench midway through the third period with four personal fouls each. But the Mustangs, who are finding they can play as well without Kiley in there, responded by taking a 15-point lead and expanding it to 19 early in the final period.

With the game a runaway for Meadows, Elk Grove guard Marc Evans, 6-0, and the much taller Kiley exchanged swings at midcourt late in the final period, though no blows were landed. Both were ejected from the game.

"You could almost see it coming," said Mustang coach Bill Weinberg. "It was a very intense, physical game."

THOUGH MEADOWS has been playing a zone defense to keep Kiley out of foul trouble, they went to a man-to-man attack successfully, shutting off Elk Grove's big scorer Mark Smith, who still finished with a flourish to net 18.

"They (Meadows) dictated the tempo and we fell into it," admitted Elk Grove coach Ken Grams. "They hurried us up and we never could get our offense going."

Meadows clobbered the smaller Elk Grove club on the backboards, pulling down 33 rebounds to 17 for the Grens.

Elk Grove came out looking for Kiley, who finished with only three points for the evening, but in doing so ignored Rose and Furlan who couldn't miss many from the field.

Rose hit eight of 10 attempts from the field while Furlan netted 10 of 19 shots.

WILDCATS RED-HOT

Frustrated in its previous 12 games with just a single victory for its efforts, the Wheeling Wildcats finally broke loose with a 98-69 win over a much surprised Prospect (5-10) team.

In a game highlighted by an uncanny shooting performance by Wheeling's Brian Begrowicz, the Wildcats left no doubt who was in charge. Jumping to an early 6-0 lead behind two Begrowicz layups, the Wildcats were never once challenged on the scoreboard.

Begrowicz penetrated the Knights the best way possible . . . with a game high 34 points.

THE SENIOR GUARD led an inspired bunch of Wildcats to a 30-point lead late in the fourth quarter before being replaced.

Ahead by a slim margin at 10-9, Wheeling rattled off a string of five unanswered buckets to balloon its lead to 22-9. Leading the charge in the first quarter was Wildcat guard Don Larson with 10 points. Larson finished with 22 points.

"Once the kids got on top they could smell victory," Wheeling head coach Ted Ecker said. "They just continued to get fired up with every basket we made."

Relying on quickness with the assertion of forward Steve Majkowski for Ken Paulos in the starting Wheeling lineup, the Wildcats raced up and down the court.

"I WENT TO A BETTER ball handler and shooter in Majkowski and tried to rely on our defense to keep us in there," Coach Ecker said."As it turned out, we weren't hurt as much on the boards as I thought."

Wheeling's final charge started early in th ethird quarter with nine straight points as the Wildcats increased a 16-point halftme lead beyond reach at 61-36.

The little satisfaction the Knights enjoyed all night came with 16 seconds remaining, as they prevented an aggressive Wheeling team from reaching the century mark.

BISON STAMPEDE SAXONS

Brian Allsmiller, Scott Groot and Mike Ledna gave a packed house at Buffalo Grove an awful lot to cheer about Tuesday night as the Bison smacked a young Schaumburg quintet, 91-61, extending their record to 15-1.

With Groot and Ledna out front spearheading the Bison' press defense and with Allsmiller, the 6-8 all-state center, teaming with forwards Fred Heesch and Mike Marshall, Buffalo Grove jumped out to a 19-6 lead in the first six and a half minutes. Coach Paul Grady's Bison never trailed in the contest, eventually building a 35-point lead as Grady poured in a steady stream of subs.

ALLSMILLER FINISHED the game with 20 points and seven rebounds while Groot had 16 points, mostly from 18 to 25 feet away. Ledna ended up with 15, including nine for 13 from the free throw line.

Schaumburg's leading scorer — and the top scorer in the game — was 6-7 junior John Chmiel, who had 23 points in addition to 12 rebounds. The big Saxon was just seven for 19 from the field, recouping with a 9-for-10 effort from the charity line to maintain his 23-points-per-game average.

"Buffalo Grove is just so quick," Chmiel marveled later, shaking his head. "And Allsmiller has gotten a lot stronger since last year."

Chmiel had some scoring support from junior John Moran (10), and sophomores George Tuzil (10) and Scott Wright (8) while Tuzil and Moran helped Chmiel win the battle of the boards, but the game's outcome was never in question from the opening minutes.

"Their guards are the ones who make this team go," said Schaumburg coach Joe Breault, whose Saxons' record fell to 3-12. "Groot and Ledna are so quick out there, they can do so much. They can beat you in so many ways. And when they play hard, it just makes Allsmiller play that much harder."

Pressure from those guards forced numerous Schaumburg turnovers in the first quarter to help Buffalo Grove open up its insurmountable margin. The niftiest steal came on an errant Saxon pass picked off at the time line by Heesch, who leaped through the air and flipped the ball to Allsmiller just before going out of bounds. Allsmiller then fed Groot streaking for the basket and an easy layup.

Nordlund joins staff; Cook to assume new duties in department

Two changes in The Herald sports department were announced today by Sports Editor Bob Frisk.

Jeff Nordlund, 27, has joined the department as a sportswriter, and Jim Cook, 28, has assumed additional duties in his position as assistant sports editor.

Paul Logan, who worked with The Herald sports department for nine years, has taken a position with the Albuquerque, N.M. Journal.

Nordlund comes to The Herald from The Daily Journal in Wheaton, where he directed the sports operation for two years. He also worked on a part-time basis for the Barrington Press.

Jeff Nordlund

A graduate of the University of Illinois, Nordlund grew up in Rolling Meadows and attended Forest View High School. He was an all-conference football player for the Falcons in 1967.

Nordlund's main school responsibilities will be Fremd, Forest View and Maine West. He also will be responsible for specialized areas of coverage in both boys and girls sports, in addition to his regular football, basketball and baseball assignments.

Nordlund and his wife Cheryl currently live in Carol Stream.

Jim Cook

Cook, who came to The Herald in 1970 after working in sports for Day Publications, will have expanded duties in his role as assistant sports editor, assisting in the daily operation and directing the sports department in the sports editor's absence.

He will participate in personnel decisions and share responsibility for editing and makeup, direct several department promotions and handle assigned beat responsibilities.

Cook, who attended Maine East High School and Northern Illinois University, was named The Herald's Outdoor Editor in 1974. He and his wife Donna and 7-year-old daughter Lori live in Rolling Meadows.

Is soccer going to the dogs?

ATHENS (UPI) — Greek police will employ dogs against fans who cause disturbances during soccer matches, the government announced Tuesday.

A government spokesman said the cabinet has approved the purchase abroad of German Shepherd dogs, specially trained to deal with unruly fans.

A police source said several Greek police officers will travel to West Germany later this month to learn how to handle the dogs, to be purchased from West German kennels.

The government decided to take strong measures following disturbances both in Athens and several provincial towns during the current soccer season.

SURROUNDED. Elk Grove's Mark Smith had plenty of company every time he went up for a shot as the Grens were beaten by the visiting Mustangs, 68-51 Tuesday night. Smith, who is virtually hidden, gets the ball jammed right back down at him by Mustangs Bob Furlan (53) and Kevin Kiley (51). Looking on are Grens Tim Mimnaugh (14) and Kevin McCloughan (24) and Mustang Kevin Krutwig (45).

Bulls stop Phoenix, 93-90

Wilbur Holland stole the ball from Phoenix guard Paul Westphal and scored an easy layup with 23-seconds remaining Tuesday night to lead the Chicago Bulls to a 93-90 victory over the Suns at the Stadium.

The game was tied at 90-90 when Westphal had the ball in the front court and Norm Van Lier was pressuring him. Holland then double-teamed Westphal, stole the ball and drove in for the winning basket uncontested.

The Bulls started out as if they would dominate on the boards, outrebounding Phoenix 20-8 in the first quarter to build a 28-23 lead. But Westphal, who had a game-high 31 points, scored 16 in the second quarter, nine of them in a row, to lead the Suns to a 54-47 halftime lead.

PHOENIX BUILT up a 69-58 lead in the third quarter, its biggest of the game. But the Suns fell apart in the final 6:10, hitting only one field goal as the Bulls outscored them 15-2 to take a 73-71 lead after three quarters.

Mickey Johnson led Chicago with 21 points. Scott May and Holland each scored 17, while Artis Gilmore had 16.

In other NBA action Tuesday night, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who tossed in a season-high 40 points, swished a hook shot with four seconds left in overtime to give the Los Angeles Lakers a 101-99 victory over the Cleveland Cavaliers.

The score was tied five times before Jabbar's hook from the free-throw line split the nets after Bobby Smith had tied the score at 99-99 for the Cavs with 25 seconds left.

JOHN HAVLICEK stole the ball with two minutes to play and drove for a layup to give Boston the lead and Charlie Scott tossed in seven points in the waning moments to pace the Celtics to a 105-101 win over the Houston Rockets.

Boston, which led almost the entire way until halfway through the final quarter, took the lead for good at 98-97 when Havlicek stole the ball from Rudy Tomjanovich and drove for the layup while the Houston forward screamed at the referee for a foul. Havlicek finished with 20 points.

George McGinnis scored 10 points and handed out two assists in the final six minutes in leading the Philadelphia 76ers to a 117-115 victory over Kansas City, breaking the Kings' four-game winning streak.

McGinnis, who finished with 27 points, scored six of his fourth-quarter points during a four-minute span in which the Kings were held without a field goal. He scored a basket to put the 76ers ahead for good, 103-101, with 3:33 left.

RESERVE LARRY Wright scored 25 points and Elvin Hayes had 25 points and 17 rebounds to spark the Washington Bullets to a 120-109 victory over the Milwaukee Bucks.

The victory moved Washington, which has won six of its last seven games, past idle San Antonio into third place in the NBA's Central Division.

Hawks live, then die against RVC

by CHARLIE DICKINSON

The Harper Hawks, looking down the barrel of a very long season without a single true guard, saw a 14-point lead dissolve as they fell to the Rock Valley Trojans, 86-70 Tuesday.

The Hawks, who lost by 30 points to Joliet Saturday in the first game since losing guards Ken Hanks, Jim Arden and Mike Abraham to academics, led by as much as 34-20 in the first half but ran into an energy crunch in the second half as Rock Valley put the game away.

"Because our squad is getting so small," said Harper coach Roger Bechtold, "the kids are having to play longer periods of time.

"That started to wear us down in the second half tonight."

THE EXHAUSTION that settled into the Harper players was nowhere more evident than on the boards. Rock Valley, battled to a standout in rebounding in the first half, came on to clobber Harper, 49-22.

In the first half, though, all things seemed possible to the 3-10 Hawks.

Trailing 12-10 Steve Duffy hit a layup and weakside jumper, Mike Nichol canned two 18-footers and John Carbery hit a jumper from the top of the key to give the Hawks a 20-12 lead.

"We killed their zone press," said Bechtold. "We worked so hard on things to do against the press and I was pleased with how that worked."

ROCK VALLEY turned things around, hitting the final 11 points of the half to cut Harper's halftime lead to 34-31.

The Hawks did not score in the final three and one-half minutes of the first half.

With the Trojans working a man to man press in the second half, Harper's lack of an accomplished ballhandler became glaringly apparent.

"Against a man to man press," Bechtold said, "usually all you have to do is get the ball in and then clear everyone out and let one man bring the ball up.

"We don't have that man, though."

JOHN CARBERY, Nichol and Ed Chmiel did the ballhandling for Harper and although they ran the offense better than they did against Joliet, Rock Valley guards Mark Corirossi and Louis Watkins gave them fits.

Rock Valley took the lead for good on a basket by 6-5 center Mike Johnson, who led all scorers with 18 points, and a three-point play by Watkins.

The Trojans quickly went on a 16-6 tear that put the game away.

The Hawks didn't help themselves at the free throw line, making just eight of 25.

NICHOL LED Harper with 15 points while Steve Duffy scored 13, Ron Sulaski 11 and Carbery 10.

Corirossi had 16 points for Rock Valley. Watkins added 15 and Bob Barsic 12.

The Hawks will go on the road Friday for a conference game with Illinois Valley.

Volleyball districts

Falcon girls triumph; winning streak at 16

Mid-Suburban League champion Forest View stormed past Deerfield Tuesday night to highlight area action in the district girls volleyball series.

The Falcons romped over Deerfield 20-11, 20-8 to run their season winning streak to 16 and advance into play Thursday evening at the Highland Park District.

"Inbounding serving tonight was 95 per cent," said Falcon coach Denise Van Huele. "It's the best we've done this season."

The top-seeded Falcons have not lost since an opening setback to Buffalo Grove, a team they toppled for the conference championship.

HERSEY OUSTED Wheeling in the Highland Park District 16-20, 20-8, 20-12 and will play Forest View Thursday at 7:00. The Huskies came from behind with Debbie Barnd a pace-setter in victory.

In the Barrington District Cary Grove eliminated Fremd 14-20, 20-16, 20-11. Cary handled Fremd's spikes well to upset the higher-seeded Vikings. "I don't think we were over-confident," said Fremd coach Dorothy Martin. "We were ready but we just fell apart."

Elgin Larkin toppled Hoffman Estates 20-17, 20-12 in the Elgin District, but Hawks Robin Belskis and Lisa Schmidt played strong games.

"WE'RE A YOUNG team and we played the best tonight we've ever played," said Hoffman coach Randy Greenwood.

Maine South took care of Elk Grove in the West Leyden District, 20-1, 20-10.

"They really have a strong, varied offense," said Elk Grove coach Eileen Bell. "They can spike, set up high or low. They're an interesting team to watch, but not to play."

IN MONDAY night action Rolling Meadows eliminated Lake Zurich 20-8, 21-19 and will return to action at 7:00 tonight in the Barrington District.

"Lake Zurich played an entirely different brand of basketball," explained Meadows coach Elaine Wissen. "It took awhile for our girls to adjust. But they kept their poise."

In the Elgin District Schaumburg ousted Addision Driscoll 21-19, 20-8 and will play again at 7:00 tonight.

"Lois Wisniewski and Alice Thomas did well spiking for us," said Schaumburg coach Mary Maher. "But we looked very nervous out there."

BUFFALO GROVE will meet Stevenson tonight at 7:00 in Libertyville as both area teams make their tourney debuts. Prospect meets Highland Park (7:00) and Maine West battles Arlington (8:30) at Highland Park.

NCAA rejects plan for reorganization

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — NCAA members voted down reorganization and "need" scholarships Tuesday despite warnings the first was needed to keep the major powers in line and the second to save money. An attempt to trim the NCAA's prestigious Division I from 247 to less than 150 members was shot down when the proposal was first tabled, then killed for this year as a motion to reconsider failed.

A three-hour battle over proposals to base athletic grants on the financial need of their recipients came to a head when Division I cast a 146-102 vote against a key measure, and Division II followed with a 66-45 negative vote. A third major fight, to change a limitation on the number of grants which may be given, was scheduled to come up Wednesday.

The realignment would have forced out of Division I those schools which do not have football, basketball and six other intercollegiate sports.

Sox, Cubs draft college players

The White Sox, picking second, drafted a strong defensive outfielder, James Glenn, Jr. of Blinn Junior College in Brenham, Tex., as their first-round choice in the annual major league baseball winter free agent draft. The Cubs, selecting 11th in the first round, tabbed Blane McDonald, a catcher, from Alexandria, Va.

The Sox added (in order) Handsome P. Roundtree, rhp, Calif., Jeffrey Vuksan, c, Penn., Patrick Carl Rubino, c, Calif., Michael Selwood, 3b-c, Calif., Phillip Francis, rhp, Ohio, Martin McDermott, inf, Fla., Mark Esser, lhp, N.Y., Alex Suarez, c-of, Calif., Peter Teixeira, rhp, Fla., Rudolfo Arias, c, Fla., Michael Powell, rhp, Fla., Joseph Netzler, rhp, Wis., Ted May, of, Tenn., Gary Bowers, rhp, Calif., John Hanley, c, Calif., Robert Kocol, of, Fla. and Charles Lea, rhp-if, Tenn.

The Cubs drafted (in order) Lawrence M. Paneila, of, N.Y., Charles Tennell, lhp, Mass., James Edwin Tracy, of, Ohio, James Alan Messmer, 3b, Pa., Vincent Noldon, of, Calif., Tim Mueller, rhp, Mont., Randall Carter, ss, Mo., Jeffrey Hardy, ss, Pa. and Billy Joe Minor, Jr., rhp, Tex.

Bruins, Leafs earn NHL triumphs

A limited schedule in the National Hockey League Tuesday night found the Boston Bruins whipping the Washington Capitals, 3-2, and Toronto stopping Pittsburgh, 2-0.

The Bruins built a three-goal lead in the third period, then held off a frantic Washington comeback. The Bruins broke a scoreless tie in the second period on rebound goals by Earl Anderson and Bob Schmautz. They took a 3-0 lead midway through the third period when Don Marcotte took a centered pass from Peter McNab and scored.

Toronto goaltender Wayne Thomas stopped 30 shots to record his first shutout of the season and Darryl Sittler had a goal and an assist. Sittler scored his 18th goal in the first period and later assisted on Errol Thompson's goal early in the third period as Toronto snapped a six-game Penguin unbeaten streak.

Russell cracks star hockey squad

Defenseman Phil Russell will represent the Black Hawks in the 30th annual NHL All-Star game later this month. Russell joins five Philadelphia Flyers — Bobby Clarke, Rick MacLeish, Jimmy and Joe Watson and Bernie Parent — New York Islanders Glenn Resch, Clark Gillies and Denis Potvin, New York Rangers Rod Gilbert and Don Murdoch and Atlanta's Eric Vail.

O'Malley supports Kuhn's decision

Los Angeles Dodgers' owner Walter O'Malley testified Tuesday he would have taken the same action as baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn in canceling the sale of three players by the Oakland Athletics. O'Malley testified on behalf of Kuhn, defendant in a federal court damage suit filed by A's owner Charles O. Finley because Kuhn voided the sale of Joe Rudi, Rollie Fingers and Vida Blue for $3.5 million last June.

"I would have done precisely what he did, actually," O'Malley said. He said the amount of money "had a bearing on it and the other factor was breaking up a championship club during the season and selling players to make it easier for another club to win it."

O'Malley testified the commissioner could have the power to decide which teams should be weak or strong, but added "I doubt any commissioner would be so indiscreet to get into acts such as you are suggesting. There is no question he was the authority, but whether he'd be stupid enough to exercise it on some inconsequential matter is unlikely."

Cubs fan is disgusted; now a 'free agent fan'

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UPI) — Loyalty has its bounds, according to Alan P. Hartwick, even for the most avid baseball fan. So after 20 losing seasons with the Chicago Cubs, he has declared himself "A free agent fan."

"At this moment I am a fan without a team," Hartwick, 25, said in a recent letter to owners and general managers of the 26 major league baseball teams.

Hartwick, a news photographer for a Grand Rapids television station, told the team officials he will sign a contract with the ball club "that makes the best offer for my services."

"I HAVE BEEN a loyal Chicago Cubs fan for 20 years," Hartwick said. "Whether the score has been Pittsburgh 22, Chicago 0, or Pittsburgh 22, Chicago 1, I have stuck with the Cubs to the end.

"But I don't have a contract with the Cubs organization," he said. "All the Cubs have given me over the years have been a couple of season schedules and games postponed because of darkness."

In return for a contract, Hartwick said, he will pledge his undying loyalty to the team he selects.

"The decision I make will not be willy-nilly," he said.

Hartwick received his first response this week from St. Louis Cardinals general manager Bing Devine.

"HE SENT ME a pennant, a jacket and a bumper sticker," Hartwick said. "It was nice, but I expect more."

Hartwick admits he modeled his action after the free agent tactic of some major league baseball players in jockeying for lucrative baseball contracts. But he insists it's not merely a tongue-in-cheek ploy.

"Why can't a fan do this — choose his own team?" he says. "We know how much players mean. How much does a fan mean?"

Unlike the players, Hartwick said, he is interested in more than money.

"I have more variables," he said. "Among those are aesthetics. That's one reason why the Cubs are still in the running. I like the ball park, the atmosphere there. But all the losing seasons are getting to be too much."

PBA's biggest pin cushion

The biggest margin of victory on record in the Professional Bowlers Assn. was the 290-118 triumph by Larry Laub over Mark Estes in the Waukegan Open in 1975. The highest first-place margin (after match play) during a tournament, meanwhile, was the 511 pin cushion by Butch Gearhart in Houston in 1967.

Holcomb dies of heart attack

VENICE, Fla. (UPI) — Stuart K. Holcomb, former general manager of the Chicago White Sox, football coach at Purdue and athletic director at Northwestern, died Tuesday of a heart attack. He was 66.

Funeral services were set for Thursday in Venice, where Holcomb resided near relatives for the past year.

Holcomb became general manager of the White Sox in 1971 after a one-year stint as the club's public relations man.

As general manager of the American League club from 1971-73, Holcomb hired manager Chuck Tanner director of player personnel Roland Hemond, who replaced him as general manager in 1973.

Holcomb retired to Sarasota, then moved to nearby Venice, where he resided near relatives.

Survivors include his wife Mary E. Holcomb; sons Stuart Jr., Douglas and Brian; a daughter, Mrs. Judith H. Burke; a sister Mrs. Joseph Crisanti; and seven grandchildren.

MID-SUBURBAN HIGH SCHOOL HOCKEY LEAGUE

Palatine 5, Maine North 4

Rick Puls scored the winning goal with five seconds left in the game to pull the Palatine Pirates to a 5-4 win over Maine North.

Although they outshot the opposition 30-14, the Pirates had to play catchup hockey the entire game.

Puls had three goals, for a hat trick, and Kevin Carrier two for Palatine.

Mike Mikulin had three assists while Mike Paul, Brad Byker, Bill Doles and Scott Zordan had one assist apiece.

Women back in bowling groove following holidays

The Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League showed absolutely no signs of a two-week holiday layoff as the eight-team circuit returned to the lanes in impressive fashion.

A quartet of gals surpassed the magical 600 series figure as a whopping 16 invidivual games of 200 or better were entered into the books.

The prolific scoring was registered at Jeffrey Lanes and was highlighted by Striking Lanes' dramatic move from the basement to the top rung, courtesy of a 7-0 sweep over L-Tran Engineering.

STRIKING'S ROBUST 2795 team series was underscored by Lu Schoenberger's 618-233-202 and Bette Brelle's 612-217-201. Eunice Whitemore tossed 534-213 and Judy Brumond added 533.

Lorrie Nichols starred in a losing cause for L-Tran with a superb 625 off games of 223 and 208. Isobel Kosi contributed 539, sub Shirley Schultz 519, Marlis Pleickhardt 511 and Vi Douglas 502.

The spotlight for the evening, however, shone brightest on Pat Myslinski of Ziebart Rustproofing of Des Plaines. Pat uncorked booming scores of 208, 211 and 219 for a resounding 638 series.

Complementing her teammate was Peggy Harris with a 563-200 and Joanne Christensen with 532. The thrust boosted Ziebart to a 5-2 triumph over Thunderbird Country Club.

PACING THUNDERBIRD with a 580-222 was Marge Carlson. Also helping were Joan Sobczak with 537 and Mary Yurs with 535.

Tower Cleaners advanced into third place in the second-half standings by conquering first-round titlist Petterson Safety Service, 5-2.

Leading the charge for Tower was Pam Lizak with 582-205, Ruthmary Baurhyte with 543, Betty Parkhurst with 533 and Jan Broderick with 510.

Countering for Petterson was Carol Sanders' 544-206, a 543 by Bobbie Kostelny, Winnie Lohse's 536 and Dee Harris' 505.

IN THE EVENING'S final match, Mason Shoes walked over Ten Pin Bow, 5-2 as Irma Faust fired 535-229, Sandi Circullo 565, Jackie Gard 541-201 and Peggy Wales 529 for the winners.

Ten Pin Bowl replied with Joan Plywack's 558 and Ethel Juenger's 524.

STANDINGS

1. (tie) Ziebart of Des Plaines and Striking Lanes 9, 3. Tower Cleaners 8, 4. (tie) Mason Shoes and Ten Pin Bowl, 6. Thunderbird Country Club, 7. (tie) L-Tran Engineering and Petterson Safety Service 5.

Beverly Lanes maintains advance in men's league

by DON CHRISTENSEN

Beverly Lanes picked up where it left off by grabbing a narrow 1.5-point lead on opening night of the second half at Sims Bowl in Des Plaines.

Paced by the consistent shooting of Frank Billy's 620 and Ken Miller's 612, Beverly Lanes won two out of three games from Uncle Andy's Cow Palace, and 16.5 points. The same consistency showed up in Beverly's team games when they totaled 972, 982, and 986 for 2940 which was high for the night. Roger Hoff's 247 and 619 was tops for Uncle Andy's.

Oost Produce, although starting slowly, came back to win the last two games from Mr. Norm's Grand Spaulding Dodge with games of 997 and 1018, good for 15 points. Glenn Chesser and John Kartheiser led Oost with 605 and 603, respectively. Rey Ischer's 238, 220 for 621 showed the way for both Grand Spaulding and the league.

DICK McFEELY Pontiac also stayed close to the leaders by winning 15 of 25 points from Des Plaines Ace Hardware. Des Plaines Ace won the first game, 1007 to 890 with Bill Corneilus' 235 leading the way.

Things went sour for Ace after that when Dick McFeely won 13 of the next 16 points. Steve Fleming was high with 580.

In the remaining match, Formco Metal Products edged Weber's Bar-B-Que Kettles, 13-12. Weber's Kettles won the first two games and all 12 of their points on games of 939 and 947.

In the last game, Formco shut out Weber's by winning all five individual matches. Bob Kula's 583 edged Tom Kouros' 582 for match honors.

THIS WEEK, the league moves to Buffalo Grove Striker Lanes with this schedule: Grand Spaulding Dodge vs. Des Plaines Ace Hardware, Oost Produce vs. Dick McFeely Pontiac, Weber's Kettles vs. Uncle Andy's Cow Palace and Formco Metal Products vs. Beverly Lanes.

STANDINGS

Beverly Lanes 16.5, Oost Produce 15, Dick McFeely Pontiac 15, Formco Metal Products 13, Weber's Kettles 12, Des Plaines Ace Hardware 10, Grand Spaulding Dodge 10, Uncle Andy's Cow Palace 8.5.

Teltronics fraud case gets state crackdown

by TONI GINNETTI

Complaints from persons across the country allegedly defrauded by a Des Plaines company that offered mail order digital watches are continuing to flood the Illinois attorney general's office.

Donald G. Mulack, of the attorney general's consumer fraud division, Tuesday said mail is continuing to run in the thousands from consumers who never received digital watches ordered from Teltronics, Ltd.

The defunct company, owned by a John Rodine, is the target of an investigation by the attorney general's office and federal postal authorities.

MULACK SAID authorities believe Rodine is an alias. He is believed to be in South America, having left the country after transferring some $700,000 of an estimated $1.8 million collected in the watch scheme to a Mexican bank.

"We got 1,000 more letters yesterday and 1,000 more today," Mulack Tuesday said. "We have heard from approximately 10,000 people who have not received watches. They average about two to three watches each, so that means we know of at least about 30,000 watches that have not been delivered."

The attorney general's office has filed suit against the firm, which had offices at 2400 and 2590 Devon Ave. A court receiver is to be named today by Cook County Circuit Court Judge Donald J. O'Brien to hold Teltronics documents and records now in the possession of the attorney general's office.

POSTAL AUTHORITIES have acted to obtain an order freezing mail delivery to the firm and to return mail already sent, Mulack said. That action came Monday in a suit filed in U. S. District Court in Chicago.

Mulack said the U. S. attorney's office for the Northern District of Illinois also is investigating the firm for possible violations of federal mail fraud statutes.

Teltronics was incorporated by Rodine in mid December and nationally advertised the sale of digital watches for $16.95. Bank accounts in four Chicago area banks were established for the firm and Rodine transferred nearly half of the funds in those accounts to a Mexican bank in late December before a court-ordered freeze on the funds was ordered, authorities have said.

Mulack told a court hearing Friday that Rodine telephoned the attorney general's office Dec. 27 from Mexico, the only communication that office has had with Rodine.

PERSONS WHO HAD ordered watches from the firm and who have not received the merchandise are being asked to send a letter plus a copy of both sides of their canceled check payments to Mulack at his Chicago office, 134 N. LaSalle St. The word "Teltronics" should be written on the outside of the envelope, Mulack added.

Mulack said appointment of the receiver will place the matter in the hands of the court, with the attorney general's office prosecuting the case. He said if Rodine does not respond within 30 days of the temporary restraining order imposed on the firm's bank funds, a default judgment could be entered against the company.

Muhammad Ali to speak at dinner

Tickets for the fifth annual Martin Luther King Dinner Saturday are available from the Minority Information Referral Center, 694 Lee St., Des Plaines. Tickets are $17.50 each.

This year's program will feature Muhammad Ali, world heavyweight boxing champion, and U.S. Rep. John Conyers, D-Detroit.

Government offices to be closed Friday

Federal, state and county offices will be closed Friday in observance of the late Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday. The closings also apply to courts and the state secretary of state's driver testing facilities.

Driver testing facilities outside Cook County will reopen Saturday. Those in Cook County will reopen Monday.

Dear Venture Customer, We Apologize

The response to our Dollar Days Coupon promotion far exceeded our expectations, resulting in the issuance of rain checks for out-of-stock merchandise. We know rain checks are an annoyance for you, and to show our appreciation for your patience we will honor an additional 10% discount on each rain check held by you for our Dollar Days event. Our out-of-stock situation leaves us red faced, because we pride ourselves on being in stock on all advertised merchandise.

The promotion is a first for us but not the last in our continuing effort to bring you savings day in and day out. We have taken extraordinary steps to correct this problem in this week's Dollar Days circular.

Delta makes it easier to get on the winter nonstop flight you want to Miami, Ft.Lauderdale or Orlando/Walt Disney World. Because Delta has the most nonstop seats to these cities from Chicago. Delta also has the only nonstop to West Palm Beach. We're serving free champagne to adults in Tourist on all our Florida nonstops from Chicago. What's more, Delta has the only Wide-Ride L-1011 TriStar nonstops going to Miami and Tampa/St.Pete—all 256 seats are two-on-the-aisle.

No other airline beats Delta's low fares to Florida. Fly any night and save 20% off regular Day Tourist on Delta Night Coach flights. If you'd rather take a daytime flight, you can save 15% on round-trips to Florida with Delta Freedom Fares. There are advance purchase and reservation requirements, limited seats, restrictions on travel duration and times. But they're well worth it. Get details from Delta or your Travel Agent.

Miami Four nonstops, including the only Wide-Ride TriStar. Day Tourist and Night First Class $112, Night Coach $90.

Ft.Lauderdale The most nonstops: leave day or night. Day Tourist and Night First Class $112, Night Coach $90.

Tampa/St.Pete Two nonstops. One is a $79 Night Coach and the only Wide-Ride TriStar going. Day Tourist and Night First Class $99.

Orlando/Walt Disney World Three nonstops every day. Day Tourist and Night First Class $99, Night Coach $79.

West Palm Beach The only nonstop plus three thrujets. Day Tourist and Night First Class $108, Night Coach $86.

Fares and service subject to change without notice.

Let your Travel Agent take the work out of play, handle all the details. Or make instant reservations thru Deltamatic.® Call Delta at 346-5300. Delta and your Travel Agent accept all major general-purpose credit cards. ΔDELTA The airline run by professionals.

Ask Andy

Body disorders cause headaches

Andy sends the Encyclopaedia Britannica's 1977 Yearbook of Science and the Future to Dirk Rohde, 13, of Burnaby, B. C., Canada, for his question:

WHAT IS A HEADACHE?

Headaches are not a disease. They are common symptoms which may be produced by many kinds of disturbances in the body. Most of the disturbances are only temporary and usually not serious.

A tension headache is the most common kind and usually is brought about by strain and emotional upsets. The pain occurs because the muscles in the back of the neck tighten. Tension sometimes affects the blood vessels on the surface of the brain, and the blood vessels contract or enlarge. Either action results in a head pain that is called a vascular headache.

The common tension headache usually can be relieved by resting. Some doctors and parents may prescribe a mild pain reliever, such as aspirin.

A more serious kind of vascular headache is called a migraine. This type of pain often occurs at periodic times and frequently affects more than one person in a family. A migraine also may produce nausea. The pain is preceeded by a warning, such as a sensation of flashing lights.

Other common causes of headache include eyestrain, infections of the ears, nose or sinuses and fever-producing illnesses. Occasionally they also are associated with an allergy.

Doctors report that infrequently a headache can be a symptom of a disorder or disease within the head.

Andy sends a Student Globe to Scot Hoffman, 9, of Piscataway, N. J., for his question:

HOW DOES A CAMERA TAKE PICTURES?

Cameras can be very complicated with expensive lenses, focusing equipment and light meters. Its name comes from the Latin word meaning chamber.

The camera, basically, is a box which light cannot enter except for uncovering a pinhole or lens at one end. A device for holding a sensitive film is at the other end. Open the lens and a light image is produced on the film. Develop the film and you have a picture.

Opponents' miscue plays

Win at bridge

by Oswald and Jim Jacoby

South's six spade contract is not a good one. Its success depended on either a 3-3 heart break or a mistake by the defense.

As you can see the hearts didn't break, but South brought the slam home. Now see if you can figure where the defense went wrong.

West opened the queen of clubs. East played the seven and South ducked. He didn't fear that a second club would be ruffed; he had no play at all for the 13 tricks and wanted to establish a squeeze or pseudo-squeeze pressure in case hearts didn't break.

Now came the defensive blunder. Wsst continued by leading the jack of clubs. There was no reason not to lead the eight spot or to shift to a diamond or a trump, but West just wasn't thinking ahead.

So he led the jack of clubs. South won, drew trumps with two leads, cashed dummy's ace of diamonds, came to his hand with a third trump, ruffed his jack of diamonds, led dummy's last trump, overtook, cashed his last trump to discard dummy's last club and noted with delight that East had discarded the 10 of clubs on the next to last trump and the king on the last one to establish South's nine spot as a winner.

A Tennessee reader wants to know if any one can call for a redeal while the cards are being dealt if no card has been exposed.

The rules provide that once the cards have been properly cut the deal must be completed if no card has been exposed provided the right person is dealing. You may not ask for a redeal as a whim.

MERIT 100's!

'Enriched Flavor'™ process applied to new low tar 100mm cigarette with striking success.

Only MERIT has the 'Enriched Flavor' process. A way of packing tobacco with extra flavor without the usual increase in tar.

MERIT created a whole new taste standard in low tar smoking.

Now that same taste science has produced a 100mm cigarette.

MERIT 100's.

Only 12 mg. tar.

Yet smokers actually like the taste of MERIT 100's as much as higher tar 100mm brands.

Kings: 9 mg. "tar," 0.7 mg. nicotine—
100's: 12 mg. "tar," 0.9 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

MERIT & MERIT MENTHOL. KINGS & 100's.

Test Data Conclusive

New 12 mg. tar MERIT 100's were taste-tested against a number of major 100mm brands ranging from 17 mg. to 19 mg. tar.

Thousands of smokers were tested.* The results: overall, they liked the taste of MERIT 100's as much as the higher tar 100mm brands tested.

MERIT and MERIT MENTHOL. King Size and new 100's.

The taste barrier for low tar smoking has been broken again.
